Landscape Change and Resource Utilization in East Asia Ts'ui-jung Liu, Andrea Janku, David Pietz, 2018-05-15

Covering the ancient period through to the 21st century this book examines how landscapes have changed across East Asia over time. Featuring examples of a variety of landscapes from the riverine and agricultural to the urban and aesthetic, this book thus presents a comprehensive review of East Asian environmental history. The eleven chapters written by an international team of leading scholars provide analysis of a wide range of spatial, temporal, and thematic considerations. Seeking to use the concept of landscape to evaluate the opportunities and constraints faced by East Asian communities, it also explores the relationship between landscape transformation and human agency. In so doing, it aims to survey the current methodology and scholarship in the field and demonstrate a new approach which encompasses socio-economic and cultural history as well as GIS-based geographical studies. Providing an in-depth examination of landscape change across the sub-regions of China and Japan, this book will be useful to students and scholars of Asian History and Environmental Studies.
