Introduction This term paper deals with two pieces of American immigrant literature of different cultural and political background, time and setting. The novel Pocho by Jose Antonio Villarreal published in 1959 was the first Chicano novel. It was written primarily for an Anglo-American audience in order to explain the life of a Pocho. Villarreal wrote the novel without any guideline as no one had entered this political vacuum before. 1 The novel Mona in the Promised Land by the Chinese American writer Gish Jen published in 1996 introduces us into the multicultural life of the predominantly Jewish New York suburb of Scarsdale in 1968. I will show in this term paper that despite the many differences in the two novels there also are many commonalities and parallels: what life and the problems between the two protagonists and their parents concern. I will furthermore try to present in detail that the familiar sorrow in both novels is closely connected with the complex conflict of generations within two cultures as well as the protagonist's search for identity that results from this. In the first part I will analyze Richard's changing relationship towards his parents. In the second part I will show that also Mona, despite her completely different background and environment, faces similar problems which finally lead to the break up with predominantly her mother. Furthermore, I will expose that Mona and Richard share common interests and ways. At the end of my work I will finally compare the parallels but also show differences between the two novels.

II Pocho 2 1 Background to the Novel The term Pocho is an expression for a Mexican who is born and raised in the United States. It is used with an abusive connotation to describe Mexican Americans in the USA. Pochos are often perceived by Mexicans to be badly educated and without a proper sense of culture. Jose Antonio Villarreal's novel Pocho is set after the Mexican Revolution of 1910 when millions of Mexicans migrated to the USA in order to get work by the so-called first Bracero Program. Mexico and the United States Lee Stacy, 2002-10 Examines the history and culture of Mexico and its relations with its neighbors to the north and east from the Spanish Conquest to the current presidency of Vicente Fox. Guti  rrez, Genaro Padilla, 1993-02-01 Recovering the U S Hispanic Literary Heritage is a compendium of articles by the leading scholars on Hispanic literary history of the United States. The anthology functions to acquaint both expert and neophyte with the work that has been done to date on this literary history to outline the agenda for recovering the lost Hispanic literary heritage and to discuss the pressing questions of canonization, social class, gender, and identity that must be addressed in restoring the lost or inaccessible history and literature of any people. Historical Dictionary of U.S. Latino Literature Francisco A. For too long U S Latino literature has not been thought of as an integral part of the overall shared American literary landscape but that is slowly changing. world views and cross cultural voices The Historical Dictionary of U S Latino Literature contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has cross referenced entries on U S Latino a authors and terms relevant to the nature of U S Latino literature in order to illustrate and corroborate its foundational bearings within the overall American literary experience This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about this subject
