Mockaitis, 2023-11-02 This handbook focuses on the dynamic nature of global migration and its implications for international business Migration shapes the societal and organizational contexts of international business yet studies on migration have only recently become more prominent For example the existence of multinational enterprises MNEs depends to no small extent on the mobility of people MNEs source develop deploy and utilize global talent This talent pool includes but is not limited to skilled expatriates or corporate migrants as well as culturally and ethnically diverse workforces comprised of first and second generation migrants highly skilled refugees that help organizations enhance their legitimacy in host countries and returnee immigrants encouraged by changing home country conditions. Additionally, global events such as the COVID 19 pandemic and Brexit have introduced new and far-reaching challenges for international firms in managing their international workforces and international mobility. Meanwhile, at the individual level, these issues are compounded for migrants having to cope with multiple work and non-work demands. Chapters in this handbook offer both firm and migrant perspectives covering topics such as diaspora networks in international alliances, migrant careers, and migrant re-entry issues, among others. Arranged in five sections, this handbook covers the whole spectrum of issues, thus furthering our understanding of this increasingly important topic.

Cooperative Forms of Transnational Corporation

Activity Peter J. Buckley, John H. Dunning, 1994 Covid-19 and International Business Marin Marinov, Svetla Marinova, 2020-12-20 The COVID 19 pandemic has induced a crisis grasping the world abruptly simultaneously and swiftly. As a critical juncture, it ignited a change of era for international business. This book illustrates how governments have dealt with the pandemic and the consequent impacts on international business. It also explores the disrupted operations and responses of businesses as their worldwide interconnectivity has been seriously threatened. The book discourses multidirectional aspects of the effects of COVID 19 on international business, ranging from the juxtaposing forces disrupting globalization and installing a change of era through decoupling of technological production and knowledge flows to its stimulating aspects to the strategic response on business industry and state level. The book contains thirty chapters that offer a multidimensional interpretation of impacts of COVID 19 on international business theory and practice. Employing the latest state of knowledge on the topic, the book is aimed at an international business audience: scholars, students, and managers who need to understand better the nature, scope, and scale of the impacts of the pandemic on international business.

Research Handbook on Knowledge Transfer and International Business Khan, Zaheer, Nair, Smitha R., Lew, Yong K., 2022-01-13 This comprehensive and engaging Research Handbook provides a full examination of the modes and mechanisms of international knowledge transfer. Furthermore, it also provides in-depth insights into international knowledge transfer-related challenges faced by multinational enterprises (MNEs).

CSR Strategies in International Business. Concepts and theories for a competitive edge Jonas Feller, 2015-12-07 For decades, multinational corporations benefited from developing countries mainly as a source of cheap labour and weak regulations. Even when corporate social responsibility (CSR) was embraced, it has been tailored to customers in the developed world. With the rise of the middle class in emerging economies and social media-driven scrutiny of corporate conduct around the globe, CSR increasingly requires an international outlook. Adopting strategic CSR in international business provides multinational corporations with a competitive edge. An emerging field of research around international CSR points to global, local, and transnational strategies as viable options. Considering impacting variables such as cultural distance, industry features, and brand visibility, recommendations are derived for managers that advance the concept of shared value for business and society. In addition, a set of future research questions is outlined to further the academic discussion around this important aspect of business in the 21st century Journal of International Business and Cultural Studies - Volume 12 George Gresham, Martha Robinson, 2021-02-16 The Journal of International Business and Cultural Studies JIBCS publishes original unpublished manuscripts related to international business global economics transnational cultural relations and societal issues as they effect international business Manuscripts from a broad range of topics are appropriate for consideration in JIBCS providing the focus of the work is international business This journal is double blind peer reviewed with an acceptance rate of less than 35% Location of International Business Activities Academy of International Business ., 2014-12-02 In recent years an extensive range of new research has been revisiting the topic of the location of international business activities from a variety of different perspectives and background interests This work has been inspired in part by two apparently quite different but actually related contemporary trends on the one hand an emergence or revitalization of clusters of activities co located in or around selected global city regions or fast growing metropolitan areas and on the other hand an increased global dispersion of activities conducted within the value chains managed or coordinated by many large multinational enterprises and their business partners The former trend has given rise to discussions of how the elite of the cultural cognitive economy of the 21st century in Allen Scott's terminology or the creative class Richard Florida's term are now being drawn or brought back to major urban centers while the latter trend is associated with debates over outsourcing and the economic and social consequences of shifts in the ownership and location of distinct nodes of value chains once production systems become more fragmented and the component parts of such systems become more geographically dispersed An increased interest in the subject of international business location has been shown by scholars in Strategic Management in Economic Geography and in Regional Science as well as in our own interdisciplinary field of International Business Studies However as is often the case in academic research communities these bodies of scholarship have tended to develop at something of a distance from one another each conversing internally more than they have with one another Location of International Business Activities aims to promote a greater conversation between those interested in the topic of Location from various different backgrounds or starting points The articles are taken from a special issue on the theme of the Multinational in Geographic Space which was published by The Journal of International Business Studies in 2013 Dhaka University Journal of Business Studies , 2005-12-02 International Business John D.
