Italy's Southern Question Orientalism In One Country:

Italy's 'Southern Question' Jane Schneider, 2020-05-31 The Southern Question has been a major topic in Italian political economic and cultural life for a century and more. During the Cold War it was the justification for heavy government intervention. In contemporary Italy a major part of the appeal of the Lombard League has been its promise to dissociate the South from the North even to the point of secession. The South also remains a resonant theme in Italian literature. This interdisciplinary book endeavours to answer the following: When did people begin to think of the South as a problem? Who: intellectuals, statisticians, criminologists, political exiles, novelists among them, some important southerners contributed to the discourse about the South and why? Did their view of the South correspond to any sort of reality? What was glossed over or ignored in the generalized vision of the South as problematic? What consequences has the Question had in controlling the imaginations and actions of intellectuals and those with political and other forms of power? What alternative formulations might people create and live by if they were able to escape from the control of the Question and to imagine the political economic and cultural differences within Italy in some other way? This timely book reveals how Southern Italians have been affected by distorted versions of a complex reality similar to the discourse of Orientalism. In situating the devaluation of Southern Italian culture in relation to the recent emergence of anti mafia ideology in the South and the threat posed to national unity by the Lombard League it also illuminates the world's stiff inter regional competition for investment capital.

New Anthropologies of Italy Paolo Heywood, 2024-07-01 Anthropologists working in Italy are at the forefront of scholarship on several topics including migration, far right populism, organised crime and heritage. This book heralds an exciting new frontier by bringing together some of the leading ethnographers of Italy and placing together their contributions into the broader realm of anthropological history, culture and new perspectives in Europe. Impressions of Southern Italy Sharon Ouditt, 2013-11-07 Naples was conventionally the southernmost stop of the Grand Tour, beyond which it was assumed lay violent disorder, earthquakes, malaria, bandits, inhospitable inns, few roads and appalling food. On the other hand, Southern Italy lay at the heart of Magna Graecia, whose legends were hard wired into the cultural imaginations of the educated. This book studies the British travellers who visited Italy's Southern territories. Spanning the late eighteenth century to the mid twentieth century, the author considers what these travellers discovered, not in the form of a survey but as a series of unfolding impressions disclosing multiple Southern Italies. Of the numerous travellers analysed within this volume, the central figures are Henry Swinburne Craufurd, Tait Ramage and Norman Douglas, whose Old Calabria (1915) remains in print. Their appeal is that they take the region seriously. Southern Italy wasn't simply a testing ground for their superior sensibilities; it was a vibrant curiosity, unknown but within reach. Was the South simply behind on the road to European integration, or was it beyond a fault line representing a viable alternative to Northern neuroses? The travelogues analysed in this book address a wide variety of themes which continue to shape discussions about European identity today. Italy and the Mediterranean N. Bouchard, V. Ferme, 2013-09-04 The Mediterranean has always loomed large in the history and culture of Italy and since the 1980s this relationship has been represented in ever more varied forms as both national and regional identities have evolved within a globalized context This interdisciplinary volume puts Italian artists writers musicians and filmmakers and intellectuals philosophers sociologists and political scientists in conversation with each other to explore Italy's Mediterranean identity while questioning the boundaries between Self and Other and between native and foreign bodies By moving beyond nation centric models of cultural and ethnic homogeneity based on myths of progress and rationality these wide ranging contributions fashion new ways of belonging that transcend the cultural economic religious and social categories that have characterized post Cold War Italy and Europe Policing Transnational Crime Saskia

Hufnagel, Anton Moiseienko, 2020-06-04 As the threats posed by organised crime and terrorism persist law enforcement authorities remain under pressure to suppress the movement or flows of people and objects that are deemed dangerous This collection provides a broad overview of the challenges and trends of the policing of flows How these threats are constructed and addressed by governments and law enforcement agencies is the unifying thread of the book The concept of flows is interpreted broadly so as to include the trafficking of illicit substances trade in antiquities and legal and illegal migration including cross border travel by members of organised crime groups or foreign fighters The book focuses especially on the responses of governments and law enforcement agencies to the changing nature and intensity of flows The contributors comprise a mix of lawyers sociologists historians and criminologists who address both formal legal and practical on the ground approaches to the policing of flows The volume invites reflection on whether the existing tool kit of governments and law enforcement agencies is adequate in this changing environment and how it could be modernised for example by increased reliance on technology or by reappraising the role of the private sector As such the book will be useful not only for academics and practitioners who work on security related matters but also more generally to those who are interested in what the near term future of policing is likely to look like and how the balance between law enforcement on the one hand and human rights and civil liberties on the other can be achieved Creating Europe from the Margins Kristin

Loftsdóttir, Brigitte Hipfl, Sandra Ponzanesi, 2023-08-10 This edited volume explores the idea of Europe through a focus on its margins The chapters in the volume inquire critically into the relations and tensions inherent in divisions between the Global North and the Global South as well as internal regional differentiation within Europe itself In doing so the volume stresses the need to consider Europe from critical interdisciplinary perspectives highlighting historical and contemporary issues of racism and colonialism While recent discussions of migration into Fortress Europe seem to assume that Europe has clearly demarcated geographic political and cultural boundaries this book argues that the reality is more complex The book explores margins conceptually and positions margins and centres as open to negotiation and contestation and characterized by ambiguity As such margins can be contextualized in relation to hierarchies within Europe with different processes involved in creating boundaries and borders between different kinds of Europeans Deploying case studies from different places such as Iceland Italy Poland Spain Turkey the UK Romania Cyprus Greece Sicily European colonies in the Caribbean and the former Yugoslavia the contributors analyse how different geopolitical hierarchies intersect with racialized subject positions of diverse people living in Europe while also exploring issues of gender class sexuality religion and nationality Some chapters draw attention to the fortification of Europe's borderland while others focus on internal hierarchies within Europe critiquing the meaning of spatial boundaries in an increasingly digitalized Europe In doing so the chapters interrogate the hierarchies at play in the processes of being and becoming European and the ongoing impacts of race and colonialism This timely and thought provoking collection will be of considerable significance to those in the humanities and social sciences with an interest in Europe Chapters 11 and 12 of this book are freely available as downloadable Open Access PDFs at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
