Intra-Africa Student Mobility in Higher Education Chika Trevor Sehoole, Jenny J. Lee, 2022-01-01 This book examines student mobility within Africa International student mobility is among the central activities of higher education internationalization As the number of international students increase so do the destinations in both number and geographic diversity Historically international student mobility has followed South North and North North patterns However recent literature show the growth in North South and South South patterns of student mobility There has also been a rise in regional mobility In what is referred to in the book as intra Africa mobility the books explores and analyzes the patterns of intra Africa mobility based on seven African countries South Africa Kenya Uganda Nigeria Ghana Senegal and Egypt The editors and contributors address three central research questions Why did the students choose the country they are studying in Why did they choose the institution they are studying in What are their academic and social experiences in these countries and their respective institutions This book is the first comprehensive exploration of intra Africa student mobility in a field that traditionally centers on the Global North

Transforming Research Excellence McLean, Robert ,Tijssen, Robert,Wallace, Matthew L.,Kraemer-Mbula, Erika, 2020-01-18 Modern day science is under great pressure A potent mix of increasing expectations limited resources tensions between competition and cooperation and the need for evidence based funding is creating major change in how science is conducted and perceived Amidst this perfect storm is the allure of research excellence a concept that drives decisions made by universities and funders and defines scientists research strategies and career trajectories But what is excellent science And how to recognise it After decades of inquiry and debate there is still no satisfactory answer Are we asking the wrong question Is reality more complex and excellence in science more elusive than many are willing to admit And how should excellence be defined in different parts of the world particularly in lower income countries of the Global South where science is expected to contribute to pressing development issues despite often scarce resources Many wonder whether the Global South is importing with or without consenting the flawed tools for research evaluation from North America and Europe that are not fit for purpose This book takes a critical view of these issues touching on conceptual issues and practical problems that inevitably emerge when excellence is at the center of science systems Emerging from the capacity building work of the Science Granting Councils Initiative in sub Saharan Africa it speaks to scholars as well as to managers and funders of research around the world Confronting sticky problems and uncomfortable truths the chapters contain insights and recommendations that point towards new solutions both for the Global South and the Global North

Democracy and the Discourse on Relevance Within the Academic Profession at Makerere University Kronstad Felde, Tor Halvorsen, 2021-09-20 Democracy and the Discourse on Relevance Within the Academic Profession at Makerere University is set against the backdrop of the spread of neoliberal ideas and reforms since the 1980s

While accepting that these ideas are rooted in a longer history the authors reveal how neoliberalism has transformed the university sector and the academic profession In particular they focus on how understandings of what knowledge is relevant and how this is decided have changed Taken as a whole reforms have sought to reorient universities and academics towards economic development in various ways Shifts in how institutions and academics achieve recognition and status combined with the flow of public funds away from the universities and the increasing privatisation of educational services are steadily downgrading the value of public higher education As research universities adopt user and market oriented operating models and prioritise the demands of the corporate sector in their research agendas the sale of intellectual property is increasingly becoming a primary criterion for determining the relevance of academic knowledge All these changes have largely succeeded in transforming the discourse around the role of the academic profession in society In this context Makerere University in Uganda has been lauded as having successfully achieved transformation However far from highlighting the allegedly positive outcomes of this reform this book provides worrying insights into the dissolution of Ugandas academic culture Drawing on interviews with over ninety academics at Makerere University from deans to doctoral students the authors provide first hand accounts of the pressures and problems the reforms have created Disempowered overworked and under resourced many academics are forced to take on consultancy work to make ends meet The evidence presented here stands in stark contrast to the successes claimed by the university However as the authors also show local resistance to the neoliberal model is rising as academics begin to collaborate to regain control over what knowledge is considered relevant and wrestle with deepening democracy The authors careful expos of how neoliberalism devalues academic knowledge and the urgency of countering this trend makes Democracy and the Discourse on Relevance Within the Academic Profession at Makerere University highly relevant for anyone working in higher education or involved in shaping policy for this sector Who's who in the Midwest
