The Constitution in the Classroom Stu Woolman, Brahm Fleisch, 2009 About the publication The law on education and educational practices in South Africa would exhaust the capacity of any meaningful monograph Instead the authors of this book engage six discrete topics that reflect the broader currents and conflicts in South African education debates a school choice b school fees c the right to an adequate basic education d single medium public schools e school governing bodies and f independent schools The book has two further aims First To move beyond the debates taking place separately in the education policy community and the legal academy and to demonstrate how these disciplines working in concert with each other can advance our understanding of law and education in South Africa Second To show that the ANC's complex education agenda must mirror the egalitarian utilitarian democratic and communitarian commitments found within the Constitution How these competing political claims reflected in our basic law play themselves out in the enabling education legislation the case law and government education policy frames each topic assayed in this work About the editor Stu Woolman is the Academic Director at the South Africa Institute for Advanced Constitutional Public Human Rights and International Law Brahm Fleisch is Associate Professor in the Division of Education Leadership and Policy Studies in Wits School of Education International Perspectives on Gender and Mathematics Education Olof Steinhorsdottir, Helen J.

Forgasz, Joanne Rossi Becker, Kyeonghwa Lee, 2010-06-01 Why a book on gender issues in mathematics in the 21st century Several factors have influenced the undertaking of this project by the editors First an international volume focusing on gender and mathematics has not appeared since publication of papers emerging from the 1996 International Congress on Mathematical Education Keitel 1998 Surely it was time for an updated look at this critical area of mathematics education Second we have had lively discussion and working groups on gender issues at conferences of the International Group for the Psychology of Mathematics Education PME for the past four years sessions at which stimulating and ground breaking research has been discussed by participants from many different countries Some publication seemed essential to share this new knowledge emerging from a wider variety of countries and from different cultural perspectives Third some western countries such as Australia and the USA have experienced in recent years a focus on the boy problem with an underlying assumption that issues of females and mathematics have been solved and are no longer worthy of interest Thus it seemed timely to look more closely at the issue of gender and mathematics internationally When the idea for this volume first emerged invitations were issued to those regularly attending the working and discussion groups at PME Potential authors were charged to focus on gender issues in mathematics and were given wide scope to hone in on the issues that were central to their own research efforts or were in receipt or in need of close attention in their own national or regional contexts

South African Journal of Psychology, 1998 Improving Primary Mathematics Education, Teaching and Learning Mellony Graven, Hamsa Venkat, 2017-01-19 This book focuses on how to improve the teaching and learning of primary level mathematics education within resource constrained contexts It builds on two large numeracy projects within South Africa which speak to broader global concerns and highlight how research and development not only enables one to meet ethical imperatives but also explore how further interventions can be developed Teacher and research communities must work together to create mutually beneficial relationships and establish a cohesive understanding of the requirements of primary mathematics education

J. H. van den Akker,2008 Curriculum reforms first and foremost should focus on improving the current teaching and learning processes As a systemic challenge these changes need to include re orientation from secondary education as pre academic tertiary education to a wider range of options including vocational education and the world of work Curriculum reforms in Sub Saharan Africa SSA require comprehensive approaches directed at the complexity of the educational system at large It requires the acknowledgement of past obstacles and current challenges to reform as well as the challenges additionally created by the reforms Human and physical resources perceptions experiences with past reforms and current school and classroom practices determine the limits of what educational systems can absorb in terms of development Many high political ambitions have implications that are beyond current context and conditions It therefore makes sense to have realistic ambitions and scope of curriculum reform because these may increase the potential for successful implementation Sometimes less could actually be more It is recommended that curriculum reform and strategies be based on the realities on the ground and much less on political ambitions Implementation of curricula depends on improved coordination of development efforts with a focus on curriculum It is recommended to increase the efficiency clearly define institutional responsibilities and provide for better cooperation and communication with across existing institutions and departments
