South African national bibliography ,1999 Classified list with author and title index ICT Education Richard J. Barnett,Daniel B. le Roux,Douglas A. Parry,Bruce W. Watson,2022-12-07 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 51st Annual Conference of the Southern African Computer Lecturers Association SACLA 2022 held in Cape Town South Africa during July 21 22 2022 The 10 full papers were included in this book were carefully reviewed and selected from 31 submissions They were organized in topical sections as follows curriculum assessment teaching in context innovative teaching and pandemic pedagogy Homeschooling High School Shirley Erwee,2014-08-28 Prospective homeschoolers are parents looking for an alternative to the mainstream educational system for their offspring But homeschooling children at high school level strikes fear into even the most dedicated of homeschoolers. They need information and answers to their questions. And with the current educational and unemployment problems in South Africa, young people need clear direction and guidance to help them achieve their goals. In addition to exploring the popular ways to gaining a recognised matric certificate outside the formal school system, Homeschooling High School also challenges readers to rethink their values, particularly the value they place on certification and to consider some unconventional or alternative paths to success. In a clearly presented format, the book includes advice on legal matters, identifying appropriate courses, sourcing study material, tips on entrepreneurship, financing tertiary studies, and the testimonies of successful homeschooled graduates. Homeschooling High School is a comprehensive guide to plotting a path through high school and beyond. Research for Educational Change Jill Adler, Anna Sfard, 2016-06-17

Research for Educational Change presents ways in which educational research can fulfil its commitments to educational practice. Focussing its discussion within the context of mathematics education, it argues that while research-generated insights can have beneficial effects on learning and teaching, the question of how these effects are to be generated and sustained is far from evident. The question of how to turn research into educational improvement is discussed here in the context of learning and teaching hindered by poverty and social injustice. In the first part of the book, four teams of researchers use different methodologies while analysing the same corpus of data collected in a South African mathematics classroom. In the second part, each of these teams makes a specific proposal about what can be done and how so that its research-generated insights have a tangible beneficial impact on what is happening in mathematical classrooms. Combining two discourses—that of researchers speaking to one another and that of researchers communicating their insights to those responsible for educational practice—the book deals with the perennial question of communication between those who study educational processes and those who are directly responsible for teacher education, educational research, and classroom practices. This book will be key reading for postgraduates, researchers, and academics in education and particularly in the areas of mathematics education, education research, teacher education, and classroom practice. It will also appeal to teacher educators, practitioners, and undergraduate students interested in educational research. The Report: South Africa 2014 Oxford Business Group, 2014-12-08

Indeed, since the end of apartheid in 1994, South Africa has become a major diplomatic player both on the African continent as well as further afield. Despite the size of South Africa's economy, the country currently faces a number of major economic challenges. As of the end of July 2014, the unemployment rate was at 25.5% according to data from Statistics South Africa, which was among the highest in the world. While the government's long-term development plans are generally highly regarded, delivery and execution has occasionally been problematic. While there are major hurdles that must be cleared, given the country's strong institutions and the rapid pace of economic expansion over the past two decades, South Africa should be able to look forward to 20 more years of peace and steady, sustained economic growth. University Access and Success Merridy Wilson-Strydom, 2015-02-11

The challenge of widening access and participation in higher education in a manner that ensures students are successful in their studies is a major issue globally and a significant research focus within higher education studies and higher education policy. Similarly, the challenge of underpreparedness of students entering higher education has become increasingly pertinent as universities in both developed and developing countries struggle to improve their throughput rates in a context in which schooling no longer seems to provide sufficient preparation for entering university. In this book, Merridy Wilson Strydom applies the capabilities approach to better understand university access and participation and draws on a rich case study from South Africa to critically and innovatively explore the complex and contradictory terrain of access with success. The book integrates quantitative and qualitative research with theory and practical application to provide a new framework for considering and improving the transition from school to university. University Access and Success will appeal to academics and researchers in the field of higher education internationally. The book also contributes to the growing body of international and comparative scholarship on the capabilities approach in higher education and will therefore be of value to higher education practitioners such as those working in the promotion of teaching and learning, higher education quality assurance, institutional research, and student affairs.

Universities Handbook, 2014     Sainik Samachar, 2012     Florence Nightingale David Amanda L. Golbeck, 2025-02-27 This book examines Florence Nightingale David's life, contributions, and relationships throughout her life as well as her subsequent legacy. Florence Nightingale David (1909-1993) was the first woman professor in the world's first academic statistics department, served in various British ministries during the war from 1939-1945, and was one of the first women to chair a statistics department in a research university. In this biography, the life stories of David are used as a vehicle to explore a variety of questions surrounding culture and engagement in the statistical sciences: What does it take to succeed in an environment that is not inclusive of your demographic? How can stories be used to bring technical material to life for students and other learners? And how can a nontraditional leader succeed in challenging boundaries and moving an enterprise forward?
