profoundly shaped by German philologists from the beginning of the last century who approached medieval music as if it were no different from music of the nineteenth century But Medieval Music and the Art of Memory deftly demonstrates that the fact that a piece was written down does not necessarily mean that it was conceived and transmitted in writing Busse Berger's new model one that emphasizes the interplay of literate and oral composition and transmission deepens and enriches current understandings of medieval music and opens the field for fresh interpretations Forest and Stream, 1881
