WORKSHEETS & ANSWER KEYS

Jamestown Settlement

The first permanent English settlement in America was founded in 1607 and lasted for 80 years. King James I of England gave the Virginia Company the right to settle in America. In 1607, 105 men sailed from England on three ships. The ships were named the Susan, the Constant, and the Godspeed.

On their journey to Jamestown, the colonists stopped in the Caribbean to gather fresh food for their journey. The colonists finally arrived in Virginia in April of 1607. It took them a total of four months.

At their location as their settlement, the colonists build a fort on a nearby island. The fort was named Jamestown after King James I. The fort struggled because the area was swampy in the summer months. In the winter months, the fort had no protection from the freezing winds.

The first settlers of Jamestown were all men. Most of the men set out for Jamestown in search of gold and wealth. Many of these men did not know how to survive in the wooded conditions of North America. Only a few of the men knew how to hunt or build forts. During the first winter in Jamestown, many of the original colonists died of disease or starvation. The settlers almost left the colony. They decided to stay after a supply ship arrived. They also started trading with the local Native Americans.
