Lynne Vallone has an international reputation in the field of child studies. In this analytical tour de force she explores bodily size difference particularly unusual bodies big and small as an overlooked yet crucial marker that informs human identity and culture. Exploring miniaturism, gigantism, obesity and the lived experiences of actual big and small people, Vallone boldly addresses the uncomfortable implications of using physical measures to judge normalcy, goodness, gender identity and beauty. This wide-ranging work surveys the lives and contexts of both real and imagined persons with extraordinary bodies from the seventeenth century to the present day through close examinations of art, literature, folklore and cultural practices as well as scientific and pseudo-scientific discourses. Generously illustrated and written in a lively and accessible style, Vallone's provocative study encourages readers to look with care at extraordinary bodies and the cultures that created, depicted, loved and dominated them.

The Lost Year Katherine Marsh, 2023-01-17 A National Book Award Finalist. From the author of Nowhere Boy, called a resistance novel for our times by The New York Times, comes a brilliant middle-grade survival story that traces a harrowing family secret back to the Holodomor, a terrible famine that devastated Soviet Ukraine in the 1930s. Thirteen-year-old Matthew is miserable. His journalist dad is stuck overseas indefinitely, and his mom has moved in with his one hundred-year-old great grandmother to ride out the pandemic, adding to his stress and isolation. But when Matthew finds a tattered black and white photo in his great grandmother's belongings, he discovers a clue to a hidden chapter of her past, one that will lead to a life-shattering family secret. Set in alternating timelines that connect the present day to the 1930s and the US to the USSR, Katherine Marsh's latest novel sheds fresh light on the Holodomor, the horrific famine that killed millions of Ukrainians and which the Soviet government covered up for decades. An incredibly timely page-turning story of family survival and sacrifice, inspired by Marsh's own family history, The Lost Year is perfect for fans of Ruta Sepetys' Between Shades of Gray and Alan Gratz's Refugee.
