Teaching Interculturality 'Otherwise' Fred Dervin, Mei Yuan, Sude, 2022-12-14 This edited volume focuses on the thorny and somewhat controversial issue of teaching and learning interculturality in a way that considers the notion from critical and reflexive perspectives when introduced to students Comprised of three parts the book discusses the nuts and bolts of teaching interculturality considers changes in the teaching of interculturality and provides pedagogical insights into interculturalising the notion It studies both teaching explicitly about interculturality and how to incorporate interculturality into teaching practices or into an institution By sharing varied cases and theoretical reflections on the topic the editors and contributors from different parts of the world aim to stimulate more initiatives to enrich the field instead of delimiting it especially in complement to and beyond the West or Global North and also to build up further reflexivity in the way readers engage with interculturality in education This will be a must read for teachers and researchers of intercultural communication education at different educational levels as well as anyone interested in scholarship on education for interculturality Chapter 3 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons 4.0 license

The Schenley Experiment Jake Oresick, 2017-04-14 The Schenley Experiment is the story of Pittsburgh's first public high school a social incubator in a largely segregated city that was highly even improbably successful throughout its 156 year existence Established in 1855 as Central High School and reorganized in 1916 Schenley High School was a model of innovative public education and an ongoing experiment in diversity Its graduates include Andy Warhol actor Bill Nunn and jazz virtuoso Earl Hines and its prestigious academic program and pensions lured such teachers as future Pulitzer Prize winner Willa Cather The subject of investment as well as destructive neglect the school reflects the history of the city of Pittsburgh and provides a study in both the best and worst of urban public education practices there and across the Rust Belt Integrated decades before Brown v Board of Education Schenley succumbed to default segregation during the white flight of the 1970s it rose again to prominence in the late 1980s when parents camped out in six day long lines to enroll their children in visionary superintendent Richard C Wallace's reinvigorated school Although the historic triangular building was a cornerstone of its North Oakland neighborhood and a showpiece for the city of Pittsburgh officials closed the school in 2008 citing over 50 million in necessary renovations a controversial event that captured national attention Schenley alumnus Jake Oresick tells this story through interviews historical documents and hundreds of first person accounts drawn from a community indelibly tied to the school A memorable important work of local and educational history his book is a case study of desegregation magnet education and the changing nature and legacies of America's oldest public schools

Religion in the Age of Obama Juan M. Floyd-Thomas, Anthony B. Pinn, 2018-08-23 This is the first book to focus on the significance of religion during President Obama's years in the White House Addressing issues ranging from identity politics immigration income inequality Islamophobia and international affairs Religion in the Age of Obama explores the religious and moral underpinnings of the Obama presidency and subsequent debates regarding his tenure in the White House It provides an analysis of Obama's beliefs and their relationship to his vision of public life as well as the way in which the general ethos of religion and non religion has shifted over the past decade in the United States under his presidency Topics include how Obama has employed religious rhetoric in response to both international and domestic events his attempt to inhabit a kind of Blackness that comforts and reassures rather than challenges White America the limits of Christian hospitality within U S immigration policy and the racialization of Islam in the U S national imagination Religion in the Age of Obama shows that the years of the Obama presidency served as a watershed moment of significant reorganization of the role of religion in national public life It is a timely contribution to debates on religion race and public life in the United States

A Practice of Ethics for Global Politics Jack L. Amoureux, 2015-10-05 What kind of ethics in world politics is possible if there is no foundation for moral knowledge or global reality is at least complex and contingent Furthermore how can an ethics grapple with difference a persistent and confounding feature for global politics This book responds to the call for a bold and creative approach to ethics that avoids assuming or aspiring to universality and instead prioritizes difference complexity and uncertainty by turning to reflexivity not as method or methodology but as a practice of ethics for politics This practice ethical reflexivity offers individuals organizations and communities tools to recognize interrogate and potentially change the stories they tell about politics about constraints notions of responsibility and visions of desirability The benefits and limits of ethical reflexivity are investigated by the author who engages writing on critique rhetoric affect and relationality and carefully considers dominant and alternative framings of difficult issues in International Relations IR the 1994 genocide in Rwanda and the US policies of enhanced interrogation and drone strikes This path breaking study provokes new possibilities for agency and action and contributes to a growing literature in IR on reflexivity by uniquely elaborating its promise as an ethics for politics and by drawing on thinkers less utilized in discussions of reflexivity such as Hannah Arendt Michel Foucault and Aristotle This book will appeal to scholars and upper level graduates in several sub fields of IR including international global ethics IR theory global governance international organizations non governmental organizations foreign policy analysis and US foreign policy
