Handbook on Growth and Sustainability Peter A. Victor, Brett Dolter, 2017-06-30 This Handbook assembles original contributions from influential authors such as Herman Daly, Paul Ekins, Marina Fischer Kowalski, Jeroen van den Bergh, William E. Rees and Tim Jackson who have helped to define our understanding of growth and sustainability. The Handbook also presents new contributions on topics such as degrowth, the debt-based financial system, cultural change, energy return on investment, shorter working hours and employment, and innovation and technology. Explorations of these issues can deepen our understanding of whether growth is sustainable and in turn whether a move away from growth can be sustained. With issues such as climate change looming large, our understanding of growth and sustainability is critical. This Handbook offers a broad range of perspectives that can help the reader to decide: Growth Sustainable? Both? Or neither? Limiting Base Erosion Erik Pinet, Erich Schaffer, 2017-08-30 Limiting base erosion from different viewpoints. Hybrid mismatch arrangements, CFC rules, transfer pricing rules. Limiting Base Erosion: the general topic for the master theses of the part-time LL.M. program. 2015-2017 has been one of the most controversial topics in international tax law ever since the initiation of the OECD BEPS Project in 2013. Even though the final reports of the 15 BEPS Actions were released by the OECD in as early as October 2015, the question how to effectively target base erosion practices still has not lost any of its topicality. Following the efforts of the OECD in developing a new international tax environment, the focus of attention has now partly shifted to the OECD Member countries that have to properly implement the OECD recommendations in their domestic laws as well as in their tax treaty practice. In this respect, a comprehensive analysis in the literature of all the issues related to base erosion proves to be of the utmost importance in order to provide practical guidance to the Member countries during that the process of implementation. This book deals especially with four key areas of interest: Limiting base erosion by neutralizing the effects of hybrid mismatch arrangements; Limiting base erosion by strengthening CFC rules; Measures against base erosion via interest deductions and other financial payments; Limiting base erosion by improving transfer pricing rules. On that basis, 27 concrete topics were chosen in order to address the four key areas of interest from different viewpoints. Base erosion and the challenges they present. Read more in Limiting Base Erosion. Class and Group Actions in Arbitration Bernard Hanotiau, Eric A. Schwartz, 2016-09-23 Several decades ago a typical arbitration would involve one claimant against one respondent. Over the years more and more cases involve several claimants against several respondents. Today one third of all international ICC arbitrations seem to involve multiparty cases, multi-contract cases involving multiple contracts, multiple parties. The evolution has continued and the debate today is whether it would be possible for a class of people in the same situation or a group of citizens having the same interest to start one single arbitration procedure as a group or as a class. This publication examines the complex issues involved in class or group arbitration on a comparative law basis. Is there a place for such proceedings within the framework of the arbitration process? Class action procedures as developed in the United States court system and more recently in Canada are almost nonexistent in Europe The European Commission has advocated collective redress as an important means of access to justice but class actions have found little enthusiasm in the Members States The book highlights the lessons which have been learned from the experience of cases in the US and in Europe What does the future hold for class collective and mass arbitrations Are they a marginal phenomenon or has their potential yet to be realized What are possible solutions to the issues that have been encountered Can we expect to see more of such arbitrations in the future Written by arbitrators academics and practitioners this Dossier will provide the answers to these questions and many more

Farming, Fascism and Ecology Philip Coupland, 2016-09-19 The life of Jorian Jenks 1899 1963 has great potential to upset settled assumptions Why did a sensitive and intelligent man from a liberal family become a fascist How did a Blackshirt go green The son of an eminent academic from his childhood onwards Jenks instead longed to farm Lacking the means to do so he worked as a farm bailiff and then in New Zealand as a government agricultural instructor Finally a legacy permitted him to come home and become a tenant farmer Struggling to survive in the economic depression of the 1930s he became an author and activist for rural reconstruction Then having lost faith in the established parties he joined the British Union of Fascists Becoming one of the Blackshirts leading figures he was imprisoned without trial during the war On his release Jenks returned to the struggle this time in the cause of ecology becoming a pioneer of today's organic movement and a founder of the Soil Association This book draws on an extensive range of sources a large proportion of which were previously unseen by historians For the first time it portrays the private and public life of this unusual man revealing many hitherto un glimpsed facets of Jenks life

The Great Transition Lester R. Brown, 2015-04-13 The great energy transition from fossil fuels to renewable sources of energy is under way As oil insecurity deepens the extraction risks of fossil fuels rise and concerns about climate instability cast a shadow over the future of coal a new world energy economy is emerging The old economy fueled by oil natural gas and coal is being replaced with one powered by wind solar and geothermal energy The Great Transition details the accelerating pace of this global energy revolution As many countries become less enamored with coal and nuclear power they are embracing an array of clean renewable energies Whereas solar energy projects were once small scale largely designed for residential use energy investors are now building utility scale solar projects Strides are being made some of the huge wind farm complexes under construction in China will each produce as much electricity as several nuclear power plants and an electrified transport system supplemented by the use of bicycles could reshape the way we think about mobility Integrated Energy Policy Report California Energy Commission.
