

MEMORANDUM

To: Faculty Council

From: Professor Markus Bussmann
Chair, Engineering Graduate Education Committee

Date: December 9, 2013 for December 11, 2013 Faculty Council Meeting

Re: New Collaborative Program in Engineering Education

REPORT CLASSIFICATION

This is a major policy matter that will be considered by the Executive Committee for endorsing and forwarding to Faculty Council for vote as a regular motion (requiring a simple majority of members present and voting to carry).

SUMMARY

This proposal is for the creation of a collaborative graduate program in engineering education (EngEd) at both the master's and Ph.D. levels. This program will involve units in the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering (FASE) and the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education (OISE), and be led by FASE.

The program will allow students to explore learning at the nexus of education and engineering practice, focusing the thesis-based research required for their home program in the same area. Topics addressed will span the knowledge base, learning processes, people in engineering programs, surrounding socio-cultural context, and the outcomes that result.

Engineering education research differs from other education research because it considers the distinct aspects of engineering education such as its inherent emphasis on design, quantification, application, systems, constraints, and problem solving. Another distinction is investigation of the broader development of engineers as they acquire their professional identity and competencies.

Like traditional engineering research, research in engineering education can involve the development of innovative tools and technologies. However, it can also focus on understanding better the factors involved in the development of a student from a novice to an engineer, and techniques for improving that educational process.

spread of income growth and opportunity will integrate a growing number of countries into more extensive international exchange. Higher incomes and larger populations will put new strains on both renewable and non renewable resources calling for careful resource management. Environmental issues will also call for increasing attention. Economic and political institutions along with the interplay of cultural customs among countries all help to shape international cooperation including in the trade field. The future of trade will also be affected by the extent to which politics and policies successfully address issues of growing social concern such as the availability of jobs and persistent income inequality. These and other factors are all examined in the World Trade Report 2013. The Dhaka University Studies, 2013. Books in Series, 1985 Vols for 1980 issued in three parts. Shabbir Cheema, 2013. Asian countries have introduced major reforms and new institutional mechanisms in recent years to promote the engagement of elected local governments, civil society and the private sector. This book examines emerging issues in democratic local governance and factors that influenced the impetus for and the substance of reforms. It asks the following questions: What have been the challenges in designing and implementing decentralization policies and programs? What are the constraints on strengthening citizen participation? Can reforms promote gender and rights perspectives in local governance? What is the role of local government in service delivery and access? How effective are the mechanisms for accountability and transparency in local governance? What are the driving forces influencing democratic local governance reform? The book addresses these questions as it discusses studies from theoretical and comparative perspectives on specific issues as well as myriad cases across Asia often dealing with country specific reforms.
