Memorandum Grade 10 November 2014:

Caught in the Act Cyril Julie, Lorna Holtman, Charles R. Smith, 2019-12-11 The research reported in Caught in the Act draws together the insights gained from a continuous professional development initiative for high school mathematics teachers teaching in low socio economic status and socially challenged environments in South Africa The chapters show the possibilities for enhancing achievement in school mathematics if a strength based approach is adopted to develop teaching with teachers and when their concerns are taken seriously The book demonstrates that the ecological relevance fitness for the context in which teachers are teaching of the goods developed and distributed by initiatives should be a major consideration to offer hope for sustainable implementation to improve school mathematics education The book is of interest to mathematics teachers school leaders mathematics curriculum advisors policy makers and researchers Crimea, Global Rivalry, and the Vengeance of History Hall Gardner, 2016-04-30 Gardner examines the causes and consequences of Russia's annexation of Crimea By analyzing alliance formations and the consequences of other annexations in world history the book urges an alternative US NATO European Japanese strategy toward both Russia and China in the effort to prevent a renewed arms race if not global war The Decline of America David D. Schein, 2018-02-13 The Decline of America offers a carefully documented analysis of the last seventeen U S presidents These men eight Democrats and nine Republicans have shaped the last 100 years not only for America but for the world Each president is profiled with unsparing scrutiny so we can see where it's all gone wrong David Schein follows these critiques by proposing ways to improve America's outlook for the next 100 years before it's too late Capital and the Common Good Georgia Levenson Keohane, 2016-09-27 Despite social and economic advances around the world poverty and disease persist exacerbated by the mounting challenges of climate change natural disasters political conflict mass migration and economic inequality While governments commit to addressing these challenges traditional public and philanthropic dollars are not enough Here innovative finance has shown a way forward by borrowing techniques from the world of finance we can raise capital for social investments today Innovative finance has provided polio vaccines to children in the DRC crop insurance to farmers in India pay as you go solar electricity to Kenyans and affordable housing and transportation to New Yorkers It has helped governmental commercial and philanthropic resources meet the needs of the poor and underserved and build a more sustainable and inclusive prosperity Capital and the Common Good shows how market failure in one context can be solved with market solutions from another an expert in securitization bundles future development aid into bonds to pay for vaccines today an entrepreneur turns a mobile phone into an array of financial services for the unbanked and policy makers adapt pay for success models from the world of infrastructure to human services like early childhood education maternal health and job training Revisiting the successes and missteps of these efforts Georgia Levenson Keohane argues that innovative finance is as much about incentives and sound decision making as it is about money When it works innovative finance gives us the tools motivation and security to invest in our shared future Competing for the Internet Flip Petillion, Jan Janssen, 2017-03-15 The Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers ICANN founded in 1998 is a not for profit public benefit corporation established to ensure a stable and secure global Internet As the custodian of the Domain Name System DNS one of its key responsibilities is the introduction and promotion of competition in Internet related markets an aim which ICANN has tried to achieve through the delegation of generic top level domains gTLDs This book investigates how successful ICANN has been in achieving this goal Over the years ICANN has been required to decide on a substantial number of complaints from applicants for gTLDs related to capture arbitrariness discrimination and unwarranted restriction of competition This book is the first detailed study of complaints related to ICANN decisions that have been brought using ICANN's Independent Review Process IRP The authors preeminent expert practitioners in international litigation and arbitration related to Internet governance take a close look at how ICANN has handled the major issues raised and how ICANN has shaped its own accountability mechanisms The book also weighs the influence of external accountability on ICANN's decision making process and considers the implications of third party decisions such as IRP decisions for the ongoing development of the Internet This authoritative analysis covers the regulatory framework governing ICANN and the introduction of new gTLDs in a historic perspective ICANN's accountability framework all the IRP cases that have been decided to date with an in depth analysis of those cases that have become reference decisions in the latest application round and the 2016 amendments to ICANN's articles of incorporation and bylaws concentrating on the problems that remain unresolved This work is a welcome addition to the debate on how to address the shortcomings in ICANN's accountability in the interests of the global Internet community The authors make concrete proposals and recommendations suggesting changes to ICANN's regulatory framework in the light of the lessons learned and with a view to preventing similar problems arising in a next round of gTLD applications This book has the potential to become the Green Book for fundamental changes to ICANN's accountability framework Discrimination based on Colour, Ethnic Origin, Language, Religion and Belief in Turkey's Education System Nurcan Kaya, 2015-10-27 The Turkish government is urged to make a fundamental shift in its approach to education by Minority Rights Group International MRG in a new report A long standing focus on state building has been supplemented by increasing emphasis on religious teaching Both feature strongly in the education system in Turkey making schools a focus of discrimination The report Discrimination based on Colour Ethnic Origin Language Religion and Belief in Turkey's Education System reveals evidence of discrimination of minority groups and suggests comprehensive reforms to effectively ensure equality The national education system which for decades aimed to create young Turkish nationalists has in recent years become a vehicle for raising young religious Turkish nationalists says Nurcan Kaya Turkey Coordinator of Minority Rights Group International Religious education is compulsory from grade four in primary schools While some information on world religions has been introduced the emphasis remains on teaching Sunni Muslim religious practices Children of Jewish and Christian families may apply to opt out but the process can be cumbersome and in many schools alternatives are not provided for them Non Muslim students who have opted out can still find themselves having to remain in the religious instruction class or alternatively having to wander in the school corridor making them vulnerable to taunts from pupils and even teachers The opt out possibility is still not available to children of other minorities Another issue is mother tongue education In 2012 a new elective on the living languages and dialects in Turkey was introduced but due to various limitations minorities remain marginalised others in the education system Subsequent to the 2012 reform the report monitors discrimination in the formal education system in the period of the academic year of 2014 2015 The findings are based on the field work of the Monitoring Discrimination in Education Network an alliance of 16 organizations working in Turkey The report compiles numerous cases of discrimination based on language religion ethnicity skin colour and the level of income In order to bring about a fundamental solution to these problems in the education system the government must prioritise developing an approach that sees all groups as equal and that responds to demands for rights based on such an understanding of equality says Kaya The report highlights that Turkey has no anti discrimination law or an equality commission to which victims of discrimination can apply The existing legislation contains no effective and accessible means of judicial remedies or compensation Therefore many discriminatory practices are not reported to school administrations The entire education system is based on Turkishness Non Turkish groups are either not referred to or referred in a negative way says Kaya Education system has played a significant role in deepening conflict in society The positive representation of other groups in the education system would contribute to social peace and harmony In order to resolve the many problems in the education system that the current approach causes the overall aim of government education policy should be cleared of ideological references and the protection of children s best interests and the right to education in line with international standards should be considered its fundamental goal says the report

The Report: Indonesia 2015 Oxford Business Group,2015-05-21 With the application of the right policies Indonesia could return to growth above 6% and perhaps eventually reach the 7% target set by the new president The government intends to double expenditure in the key areas of public works transport and agriculture and new plans include the construction of 2600 km of roads 15 airports 24 ports 3258 km of railway and the addition of around 35 000 MW to the state electricity company s current capacity The investments to be made in infrastructure have the potential to boost the economy in both the short and long term A shift to more investment and less consumption would help lead to more sustainable growth and insulate the country from external shocks Already the numbers are starting to head in the right direction

Breaking Point Rebecca Schwartz Greene,2023-01-03 WINNER SOCIETY FOR MILITARY HISTORY DISTINGUISHED BOOK AWARDS FIRST BOOK This book informs the public for the first time about the impact of American psychiatry on soldiers during World War II Breaking Point is the first in depth history of American psychiatry in World War II Drawn from unpublished primary documents oral histories and the author s personal interviews and correspondence over years with key psychiatric and military policymakers it begins with Franklin Roosevelt's endorsement of a universal Selective Service psychiatric examination followed by Army and Navy pre and post induction examinations. Ultimately 2.5 million men and women were rejected or discharged from military service on neuropsychiatric grounds. Never before or since has the United States engaged in such a program. In designing Selective Service Medical Circular No. 1, psychiatrist Harry Stack Sullivan assumed psychiatrists could predict who might break down or falter in military service or even in civilian life thereafter. While many American and European psychiatrists questioned this belief and huge numbers of American psychiatric casualties soon raised questions about screening's validity, psychiatric and military leaders persisted. In 1942 and 1943, in endorsing ever tougher screening and little else, soon families complained of fathers and teens being drafted instead of being identified as psychiatric. 4Fs and Blacks and Native Americans among others complained of bias. A frustrated General George S. Patton famously slapped two malingering neuropsychiatric patients in Sicily, a sentiment shared by Marshall and Eisenhower though they favored a tamer style. Yet psychiatric rejections, evacuations and discharges mounted. While psychiatrist Roy Grinker and a few others treated soldiers close to the front in Tunisia in early 1943, this was the exception. But as demand for manpower soared and psychiatrists finally went to the field and saw that combat itself, not predisposition, precipitated breakdown, leading military psychiatrists switched their emphasis from screening to prevention and treatment. But this switch was too little, too late and slowed by a year-long series of Inspector General investigations, even while numbers of psychiatric casualties soared. Ironically, despite and even partly because of psychiatrists' wartime performance plus the emotional toll of war, postwar America soon witnessed a dramatic growth in numbers, popularity and influence of the profession, culminating in the National Mental Health Act, 1946. But veterans with PTSD, not recognized until 1980, were largely neglected.
