Memorandum Of Geography Paper Grade 2013 November:

Amaza Lee Meredith Imagines Herself Modern Jacqueline Taylor, 2023-11-28 The extraordinary life and work of architect Amaza Lee Meredith and the role modernism and material culture played in the aspiring Black American middle class of the early twentieth century Amaza Lee Meredith Imagines Herself Modern tells the captivating story of Amaza Lee Meredith a Black woman architect artist and educator born into the Jim Crow South whose bold choices in both life and architecture expand our understanding of the Great Migration and the Harlem Renaissance while revealing the importance of architecture as a force in Black middle class identity Through her charismatic protagonist Jacqueline Taylor derives new insights into the experiences of Black women at the forefront of culture in early twentieth century America caught between expectation and ambition responsibility and desire Central to Taylor s argument is that Meredith s response to modern architecture and art like those of other Black cultural producers was not marginal to the modernist project instead her work reveals the tensions and inconsistencies in how American modernism has been defined In this way the book shines a necessary light on modernism s complexity while overturning perceived notions of race and gender in relation to the modernist project and challenging the notion of the white male hero of modern architecture Muslim Fashion Reina Lewis, 2015-10-15 In the shops of London s Oxford Street girls wear patterned scarves over their hair as they cluster around makeup counters Alongside them hip twenty somethings style their head wraps in high black topknots to match their black boot cut trousers Participating in the world of popular mainstream fashion often thought to be the domain of the West these young Muslim women are part of an emergent cross faith transnational youth subculture of modest fashion In treating hijab and other forms of modest clothing as fashion Reina Lewis counters the overuse of images of veiled women as evidence in the prevalent suggestion that Muslims and Islam are incompatible with Western modernity Muslim Fashion contextualizes modest wardrobe styling within Islamic and global consumer cultures interviewing key players including designers bloggers shoppers store clerks and shop owners Focusing on Britain North America and Turkey Lewis provides insights into the ways young Muslim women use multiple fashion systems to negotiate religion identity and ethnicity Dead Tree Media Michael Stamm, 2018-10-16 A deep and timely account of how American newspapers were produced and distributed on paper Winner of the Best Book in Canadian Business History by the Canadian Business History Association Popular assessments of printed newspapers have become so grim that some have taken to calling them dead tree media as a way of invoking the medium s imminent demise There is a literal truth hidden in this dismissive expression printed newspapers really are material goods made from trees And throughout the twentieth century the overwhelming majority of trees cut down in the service of printing newspapers in the United States came from Canada In Dead Tree Media Michael Stamm reveals the international history of the commodity chains connecting Canadian trees and US readers Drawing on newly available corporate documents and research in archives across North America Stamm offers a sophisticated rethinking of the material history of the printed newspaper Tracing its industrial production from the forest to the newsstand he provides an account of the obscure and often hidden labor involved in this manufacturing process by showing how it was driven by not only publishers and journalists but also lumberjacks paper mill workers policymakers chemists and urban and regional planners Stamm describes the 1911 shift in tariff policy that gave US publishers duty free access to Canadian newsprint providing a tremendous boost to Canadian paper manufacturers and a significant subsidy to American newspaper publishers He also explains how Canada attracted massive American foreign investment in paper mills around the same time that US publishers were able to gain greater access to Canada's vast spruce forests Focusing particularly on the Chicago Tribune Stamm provides a new history of the rise and fall of both the mass circulation printed newspaper and the particular kind of corporation in the newspaper business that had shaped many aspects of the cultural political and even physical landscape of North America For those seeking to understand the travails of the contemporary newspaper business Dead Tree Media is essential reading

A Global Idea
Mayssoun Sukarieh, 2023-08-15 A Global Idea outlines how youth as shown by the Arab Spring uprisings and subsequent state responses became a prominent social and political category during the first two decades of the twenty first century in the Middle East Drawing on ethnographic fieldwork interview data and textual analysis Mayssoun Sukarieh explains that the spread of youth as an important category is linked to the operation of a global youth development complex a diverse transnational network of state private sector civil society and international development aid organizations that worked through key urban areas such as Washington DC Amman and Dubai In its analysis of the arrival extension and embedding of the youth development complex in the Middle East during this period A Global Idea addresses a broader question that is of global and not just regional concern How are certain ideas that are central to the working and reproduction of global capitalism able to travel the world so that they are found virtually everywhere

America's Moment Rework
America, 2015-06-15 It is time for a new conversation Amid the biggest economic transformation in a century the challenge of our time is to make sure that all Americans benefit from the wave of digital revolutions around the world that have permeated and upended modern life Yet today's economic arguments seem stuck We need a new vision of a hopeful future and a new action agenda So many Americans are uncertain about the future How can there be so many paths to opportunity with so few people traveling them As a nation we have to understand what is required to help Americans succeed now and how to prepare our country for what comes next We have been here before A hundred years ago America experienced the greatest economic transformation and technological revolution in its history The transformation of the past twenty years as the world has moved through the information era into the digital age has turned our life and work upside down once again It is a time of tremendous change but also of tremendous possibility Rework America is a group of American leaders who know from experience the challenges we face and the potential solutions In America's Moment they suggest a practical agenda for an exciting future It is illustrated by people who are already showing the way and includes actions Americans can take today in their own communities preparing people to succeed using the reach of the Internet and data to innovate jobs and to reach new markets all over the world using technology to match employers and workers and transitioning to a no collar working world neither blue collar nor white collar Set against the history of how Americans succeeded once before in remaking their country America's Moment is about the future It describes how the same forces of change technology and a networked world can become tools that can open opportunity to everyone

Automobility and the City in Twentieth-Century Britain and Japan Simon Gunn, Susan C. Townsend, 2019-08-22 Automobility and the City in Twentieth Century Britain and Japan is the first book to consider how mass motorization reshaped cities in Japan and Britain during the 20th century Taking two leading motor cities Nagoya and Birmingham as their principal subjects Simon Gunn and Susan C Townsend show how cars changed the spatial form and individual experience of the modern city and reveal the similarities and differences between Japan and Britain in adapting to the motor age The book has three main themes the place of automobility in post war urban reconstruction the emerging conflict between the promise of mobility and personal freedom offered by the car and its consequences for the urban environment the M E dilemma and the extent to which the Anglo Japanese comparison can throw light on fundamental differences in cultural understanding of the environment urbanism and the self The result is the first comparative history of mass automobility and its environmental consequences between East and West

From Head Shops to Whole Foods Joshua C. Davis, 2017-08-08 In the 1960s and 70s a diverse range of storefronts including head shops African American bookstores feminist businesses and organic grocers brought the work of the New Left Black Power feminism environmentalism and other movements into the marketplace Through shared ownership limited growth and democratic workplaces these activist entrepreneurs offered alternatives to conventional profit driven corporate business models By the middle of the 1970s thousands of these enterprises operated across the United States but only a handful survive today Some such as Whole Foods Market have abandoned their quest for collective political change in favor of maximizing profits Vividly portraying the struggles successes and sacrifices of these unlikely entrepreneurs From Head Shops to Whole Foods writes a new history of social movements and capitalism by showing how activists embraced small businesses in a way few historians have considered The book challenges the widespread but mistaken idea that activism and political dissent are inherently antithetical to participation in the marketplace Joshua Clark Davis uncovers the historical roots of contemporary interest in ethical consumption social enterprise buying local and mission driven business while also showing how today's companies have adopted the language but not often the mission of liberation and social change

Property and Human Rights in a Global Context Ting Xu, Jean Allain, 2016-03-24 Property as a human rights concern is manifested through its incorporation in international instruments and as a subject of the law through property related cases considered by international human rights organs Yet for the most part the relationship between property and human rights has been discussed in rather superficial terms lacking a clear substantive connection or common language That said the currents of globalisation have witnessed a new era of interrelation between these two areas of the law including the emergence of international intellectual property law and the recognition of indigenous claims which in fundamental ways speak to an engagement with human rights law This collection starts the conversation between human rights lawyers and property lawyers and explores analytical approaches to the increasing relationship between property and human rights in a global context The chapters engage with key theoretical and policy debates and range across three main themes The re evaluation of the public private divide in the law the tensions between the market and social justice in development and the balance between the rights of individuals and those of communities The chapters adopt a global comparative perspective and engage in case studies from countries including India Philippines Brazil the United States the United Kingdom and includes various regions of Africa and Europe Memorandum on the Teaching of Geography.
