The world looks dark without a true Friend. I am fortunate that I have a best friend. Her name is Riya. We are friends since childhood. Riya is my class fellow. She is a soft-spoken girl. She is tall and good-looking. She is sincere and attentive in her studies. She belongs to a middle-class family. Riya is a disciplined and obedient girl. Her hobbies are drawing, singing, and dancing. Everyone admires her because of her good behavior. Her aim in life is to be a doctor. Riya and I study and play together. We share our secrets, happiness, and sadness with each other. I feel really lucky to have her as my best friend. May God give everyone a friend like Riya.

A brief glimpse of it is shown on the evening TV news but what it is and where it came from is a mystery. Angie Inkster Scrivener decides to solve the mystery so she can use it as her news story entry in a contest sponsored by a nearby metropolitan newspaper. If Angie's story is selected as the winning entry she will be named as the newspaper's junior reporter. Acting like an investigative reporter she unravels the mystery. To do so she becomes involved in a fantastic adventure. Her story about it wins much more than the contest for almost immediately after its submission it is used as a big story on the first page of the Morning Herald. All sorts of exciting things then happen involving her family her best school friend and her new friend the eccentric inventor of what the purple automobile really was. Suitable for ages nine to fourteen Seymour Mann's stories and poetry are always inventive and unique. His background is both diverse and wide as a teacher scholar and a practitioner in governmental affairs and labor relations. In all his writing he draws on these experiences in a way that is enriched by his fertile imagination and certainly that is exhibited in this story. I highly recommend it and I salute Seymour for the achievement it represents. The tales related in Lines From the Times are drawn from real life. Lacking the length of a short story these tales are pithy reflections on life as it is encountered by the author From a little girl s conversation on a park bench a grown man flying a kite in the church yard a daughter s attempts to rein in an indulgent grandfather a homeless man or a drug influenced woman seeking direction an adventure getting children off to school strangers passed along life s journey all combine to entertain and delight These are not sermons by any means but hey are parables of life where one finds a lesson taught a prejudice challenged or a value uplifted Lines From the Times is a mirror held up to our age reflecting our beauty and our blemishes There s love in these pages there s sadness for love not shown There s acceptance here there s rejection We can find ourselves tucked inside the stories ourselves at our best and at our worse

This eye catching title also illuminates the authors intent to turn this seemingly intimidating method of self inquiry into something very accessible and doable Their jargon free language is friendly and inviting Although they don t intend to make their many methodological tips and tools too prescriptive their practical suggestions provided in this guide book are indeed helpful and useful I believe that Robert and DeMethra have demonstrated admirable talents as effective educators by unpacking the complex method of SPN writing into bite sized steps I am fully convinced that the steps will help both novices and the experienced researcher to reach the ultimate height of producing engaging and scholarly significant SPN s The book is also fun to read The authors intersperse throughout their own SPN s pedagogical insights from their doing and teaching and real life stories in order to illustrate the methodological process challenges and triumphs      The Girl's realm ,1901
