Cohen, 2023-01-30 Across the social sciences and even in philosophy trust is most often characterized in terms of expectations and probabilities This book defends an alternative conception of trust as a moral phenomenon When one person trusts another to do something the first relies on the second's commitment's So trust reflects and is a product of agreement about the commitments and obligations that bind persons who live and work together These commitments and obligations can be implicit but building or rebuilding trust often requires making these commitments and obligations explicit defining the terms of cooperation Part 1 argues that this account of trust better captures our actual trust practices and it draws out connections with both the philosophy and the social science literatures It also describes the process of creating trust relationships with reference to trust invitations Part 2 addresses practical applications of the account defended here in the context of social relationships economic systems and within business organizations These applications emphasize the material benefits of trust but separate from those Part 2 argues that trust is an intrinsic good so we have moral reason to trust The Nature and Practice of Trust will appeal to scholars and advanced students working in ethics social and political philosophy and the social sciences Chapter 6 of this book is available for free in PDF format as Open Access from the individual product page at www.routledge.com It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license The Law Times, 1896 U.S. Geological Survey Professional Paper, 1963 Geological Survey Professional Papers, 1963 Educational Times and Journal of the College of Preceptors, 1908 The King of Illustrated Papers, 1900 Camera Craft, 1910 New England Journal of Education Thomas Williams Bicknell, Albert Edward Winship, Anson Wood Belding, 1877 Sotheran's Price Current of Literature Henry Sotheran Ltd, 1902 Journal, 1916 The United States Army and Navy Journal and Gazette of the Regular and Volunteer Forces, 1913 The Journal of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry, 1918 Mining and Metallurgy, 1923 Bulletin of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers with which is Consolidated the American Institute of Metals, 1923 The Inland Printer, 1895 The Weekly Reporter ..., 1878 The Organist and Choirmaster, 1896 Iron Trade Review, 1911
