Modeling Instruction in Science Education

Aimee Kalisz,2018 This study will look at modeling instruction and how it affects students understanding in a science classroom Three sets of middle school students and their pre post test data were analyzed for this study The three sets of students compared are as follows the control group which consists of students taught in a traditional science classroom from the 2014 2015 school year The second set of students is a group from the 2015 2016 school year who were the first set of students taught using the modeling method The last group of students used for this study is from the 2016 2017 school year who were taught using the modeling instruction after the teachers initial year of implementing modeling Students in all groups showed growth in understanding but after comparing data between the pre post tests students that had modeling instruction showed a greater understanding of the material and scientific concepts The data also shows that students have continued to grow as the teacher has continued learning how to implement the modeling process in the classroom Although there is evidence found within this study continued research should be done Data should continue to be collected each year from students as the teacher progresses in developing an understanding for this teaching style If growth in understanding continues then it would be greater evidence that the modeling method is beneficial as compared to a traditional style classroom
