The Building of Civil Europe 1951-1972 Stefanie Pukallus, 2018-11-27 This book argues that early European Commission officials envisaged an integrated civil Europe from the outset Largely overlooked is the fact that between 1951 and 1972 there was a group of European Commission and before that the High Authority officials who wished to build a Civil Europe to sit alongside an economic and political Europe This Civil Europe was it was hoped to become home to a European citizenry equipped with a European civil consciousness that complemented their national and local loyalties To this end these officials pioneered a series of civil initiatives designed to begin the process of building Civil Europe This book analyses three such civil initiatives the building of the first European School the European Community's participation in Expo 58 and the production of the European Community's own documentaries From the start Europe was designed and conceived of in terms of a European general civil public and not solely in terms dictated by economic and political interests Migration, Work and Citizenship in the New Global Order Ronaldo Munck, Carl Ulrik Schierup, Raúl Delgado Wise, 2013-09-13 Any consideration of global migration in relation to work and citizenship must necessarily be situated in the context of the Great Recession A whole historical chapter that of neoliberalism has now closed and the future can only be deemed uncertain Migrant workers were key players during this phase of the global system supplying cheap and flexible labour inputs when required in the rich countries Now with the further sustainability of the neoliberal political and economic world order in question what will be the role of migration in terms of work patterns and what modalities of political citizenship will develop While informalization of the relations of production and the precarization of work were once assumed to be the exception that is no longer the case As for citizenship this book posits a parallel development of precarious citizenship for migrants made increasingly vulnerable by the global economic crisis But we are also in an era of profound social transformation in the context of which social counter movements emerge which may halt the disembedding of the market from social control and its corrosive impact This book was published as a special issue of Globalizations Black France, White Europe Emily Marker, 2022-10-15 Winner of the George Louis Beer Prize Black France White Europe illuminates the deeply entangled history of European integration and African decolonization Emily Marker maps the horizons of belonging in postwar France as leaders contemplated the inclusion of France's old African empire in the new Europe in the making European integration intensified longstanding structural contradictions of French colonial rule in Africa Would Black Africans and Black African Muslims be French If so would they then also be European What would that mean for republican France and united Europe more broadly Marker examines these questions through the lens of youth amid a surprising array of youth and education initiatives to stimulate imperial renewal and European integration from the ground up She explores how education reforms and programs promoting solidarity between French and African youth collided with transnational efforts to make young people in Western Europe feel more European She connects a particular postwar vision for European unity which coded

Europe as both white and raceless Christian and secular to crucial decisions about what should be taught in African classrooms and how many scholarships to provide young Africans to study and train in France That vision of Europe also informed French responses to African student activism for racial and religious equality which ultimately turned many young francophone Africans away from France irrevocably Black France White Europe shows that the interconnected history of colonial and European youth initiatives is key to explaining why despite efforts to strengthen ties with its African colonies in the 1940s and 1950s France became more European during those years Designing the European Union F.

Laursen,2012-12-15 This book outlines the content of the main treaties that form the constitutional basis of the European Union and analyses changes in these over time The EU has expanded its policy scope and taken in many more members transferring powers to common supranational institutions in a way seen nowhere else in the world Eurafrica Peo

Hansen,Stefan Jonsson,2014-10-23 In order to think theoretically about our global age it is important to understand how the global has been conceived historically Eurafrica was an intellectual endeavor and political project that from the 1920s saw Europe s future survival its continued role in history as completely bound up with Europe s successful merger with Africa In its time the concept of Eurafrica was tremendously influential in the process of European integration Today the project is largely forgotten yet the idea continues to influence EU policy towards its African partner The book will recover a critical conception of the nexus between Europe and Africa a relationship of significance across the humanities and social sciences In assessing this historical concept the authors shed light on the process of European integration African decolonization and the current conflictual relationship between Europe and Africa L'Humanité nouvelle; revue internationale ,1899 Revue politique et littéraire ,1897
