Edwards,2016-04-27 Bars Blues and Booze collects lively bar tales from the intersection of black and white musical cultures in the South Many of these stories do not seem dignified decent or filled with uplifting euphoria but they are real narratives of people who worked hard with their hands during the week to celebrate the weekend with music and mind altering substances These are stories of musicians who may not be famous celebrities but are men and women deeply occupied with their craft professional musicians stuck with a day job The collection also includes stories from fans and bar owners people vital to shaping a local music scene The stories explore the crossroads that intoxicated intersection of spirituality race and music that forms a rich southern vernacular In personal narratives musicians and partygoers relate tales of narrow escape almost getting busted by the law while transporting moonshine of desperate poverty rat infested kitchens and repossessed cars of magic hiring a root doctor to make a charm and loss death or incarceration Here are stories of defiant miscegenation of forgetting race and going out to eat together after a jam and then not being served Assorted boasts of improbable hijinks give the blue collar musician a wild gritty glamour and emphasize the riotous freedom of their fans who sometimes risk the strong arm of southern liquor laws in order to chase the good times Sombreros and Motorcycles in a Newer South P. Nicole King,2012-02-15 In 1949 Alan Schafer opened South of the Border a beer stand located on bucolic farmland in Dillon County South Carolina near the border separating North and South Carolina Even at its beginning the stand catered to those interested in Mexican themed kitsch sombreros toy pinatas vividly colored panchos salsas Within five years the beer stand had grown into a restaurant then a series of restaurants and then a theme park complete with gas stations motels a miniature golf course and an adult video shop Flashy billboards featuring South of the Border's stereotypical bandit Pedro advertised the locale from 175 miles away An hour south of Schafer's site lies the Grand Strand region sixty miles of South Carolina beaches and various forms of recreation Within this region Atlantic Beach exists From the 1940s onward Atlantic Beach has been a primary tourist destination for middle class African Americans as it was one of the few recreational beaches open to them in the region Since the 1990s the beach has been home to the Atlantic Beach Bikefest a motorcycle festival event that draws upward of 10 000 African Americans and other tourists annually Sombreros and Motorcycles in a Newer South studies both locales separately and together to illustrate how they serve as lens for viewing the historical social and aesthetic aspects embedded in a place s culture over time In doing so author Nicole King engages with concepts of the Newer South the contemporary era of southern culture which integrates Old South and New South history and ideas about issues such as race taste and regional authenticity Tracing South Carolina s tourism industry through these locales King analyzes the collision of southern identity and place with national corporatized culture from the 1940s onward Sombreros and Motorcycles in a Newer South locates campy but historic tourist sites that serve as important texts for better understanding how culture moves and more inclusive notions of what it means to be southern today
