Language in the Context of Use Andrea Tyler, Yiyoun Kim, Mari Takada, 2008-08-27 The volume explores key convergences between cognitive and discourse approaches to language and language learning both first and second The emphasis is on the role of language as it is used in everyday interaction and as it reflects everyday cognition The contributors share a usage based perspective on language whether they are examining grammar or metaphor or interactional dynamics which situates language as part of a broader range of systems which underlie the organization of social life and human thought While sharing fundamental assumptions about language the particulars of the areas of inquiry and emphases of those engaged in discourse analysis versus cognitive linguistics are diverse enough that historically many have tended to remain unaware of the interrelations among these approaches Thus researchers have also largely overlooked the possibilities of how work from each perspective can challenge inform and enrich the other The papers in the volume make a unique contribution by more consciously searching for connections between the two broad approaches The results are a set of dynamic thought provoking analyses that add considerably to our understanding of language and language learning The papers represent a rich range of frameworks within a usage based approach to language Cognitive Grammar Mental Space and Blending Theory Construction Grammar ethnomethodology and interactional sociolinguistics are just some of the frameworks used by the researchers in this volume The particular subjects of inquiry are also quite varied and include first and second language learning signed language syntactic phenomena interactional regulation and dynamics discourse markers metaphor theory polysemy language processing and humor The volume is of interests to researchers in cognitive linguistics discourse and conversational analysis and first and second language learning as well as signed languages Contemporary research in minoritized and diaspora languages of Europe Matt Coler, Andrew Nevins, 2023-01-17 This volume provides a collection of research reports on multilingualism and language contact ranging from Romance to Germanic Greco and Slavic languages in situations of contact and diaspora Most of the contributions are empirically oriented studies presenting first hand data based on original fieldwork and a few focus directly on the methodological issues in such research Owing to the multifaceted nature of contact and diaspora phenomena e g the intrinsic transnational essence of contact and diaspora and the associated interplay between majority and minoritized languages and multilingual practices in different contact settings contact induced language change and issues relating to convergence the disciplinary scope is broad and includes ethnography qualitative and quantitative sociolinguistics formal linguistics descriptive linguistics contact linguistics historical linguistics and language acquisition Case studies are drawn from Italo Romance varieties in the Americas Spanish Nahuatl contact Castellano Andino Greko Griko in Southern Italy Yiddish in Anglophone communities Frisian in the Netherlands Wymysi ry in Poland Sorbian in Germany and Pomeranian and Zeelandic Flemish in Brazil Modern German Grammar, 2004, Modern German Grammar, 1996 Language, 1997 Modern German Grammar Bill J.
