Garrett Eckbo Marc Treib,Dorothee Imbert,1997 The man and his work are given an appreciative investigation in

Garrett Eckbo Modern Landscapes for Living a detailed and elegant study that features more than sixty of his projects many published here for the first time Marc Treib examines the aesthetic formation of Eckbo's manner and by implication the broader field of landscape architecture since the 1930s Dorothee Imbert writes of Eckbo's social vision noting his belief that ultimately landscape design is the arrangement of environments for people The book includes an afterword by Garrett Eckbo a memoir by photographer Julius Shulman a biographical and professional chronology and a bibliography of publications by and about the landscape architect and his contemporaries Making the Modern Garden Christopher Bradley-Hole, 2007 A book on the philosophy and practice of contemporary garden design An opening chapter The Poetry explains how the modern garden has evolved The book is then split into a series of thematic chapters such as The Grammar and The Narrative

Thinking a Modern Landscape Architecture, West and East Marc Treib, 2020-02-10 The complex story of modern landscape architecture remains to be written as does its precise definition Thinking a Modern Landscape Architecture West and East written by one of the field's most prolific and insightful authors provides a rare cross cultural study that examines the written and design contributions made by two of the movement's most influential early protagonists Christopher Tunnard 1910-1979 in England and later the United States and Sutei Horiguchi 1896-1984 in Japan Tunnard's pioneering manifesto Gardens in the Modern Landscape first published in 1938 laid out the thinking and provided the direction for a landscape architecture engaged more strongly with contemporary life adopting ideas from modern art as well as the historical gardens of Japan Rather than a book it was the architect Horiguchi's 1934 essay The Garden of Autumn Grasses that initiated a new direction for garden making in Japan with a considered and artful use of seasonal plants and a stronger connection to the modern architecture it accompanied Unlike Tunnard who sought inspiration and sources in contemporary art Horiguchi looked to the eighteenth century Rimpa School of painting for insights into the composition of the new garden by carefully placing individual plants against a simple background Although the two theorists/practitioners never met Tunnard's interest in Japan and use of Horiguchi's work as illustrations links them in a shared quest for a landscape architecture appropriate to their times and respective countries Lavishly illustrated with 150 historical and contemporary photos and drawings Thinking a Modern Landscape Architecture West and East Christopher Tunnard and Sutei Horiguchi offers the first compressive study into their thinking landscape designs and consequent influence on landscape architecture in the years that followed

Modern Landscape Michael Spens, 2003-07 An in depth analysis of contemporary landscape architecture of the past decade The Modern Garden Pierluigi Serraino, 2024-10-01 Visionary landscape architecture and garden design at mid century in North America is captured by the greats of the era including Julius Shulman and Ezra Stoller in many previously unpublished photographs The treasures of mid century American architecture have long been celebrated Less appreciated has been the landscape design that provides the framing for these masterworks But more than frame landscape architecture is an art worthy of the spotlight particularly at mid century when the notion that gardens are outdoor spaces for people to live in was championed and brought to the fore now gardens and landscapes are not just external attributes to the house but a continuation of it and its living spaces in a relationship of symbiosis with its pools and terraces its winding lawns and its partly enclosed room like spaces flanked by brick or stone or plantings in a range of colors and forms Approximately seventy five mostly residential projects are thoroughly documented and recounted Landscape architects whose work is featured include Thomas Church Lawrence Halprin and Garrett Eckbo among others Highlights include the dramatic surrounds of Richard Neutra's Perkins House in its Pasadena hillside setting and Frank Lloyd Wright's Marin County Civic Center where environment and building comeingle in an extraordinary modernist vision of the future made real This book is both a wishful gesture toward a realignment of building with nature and a must have for anyone with a visceral appreciation for a designed environment understood as an integrated whole Ultimately the book underlines the fundamental importance of gardens and landscape design intended in the widest possible sense for the quality of living of all individuals Cornelia Hahn

Oberlander Susan Herrington, 2014-01-01 Cornelia Hahn Oberlander is one of the most important landscape architects of the twentieth century yet despite her lasting influence few outside the field know her name Her work has been instrumental in the development of the late twentieth century design ethic and her early years working with architectural luminaries such as Louis Kahn and Dan Kiley prepared her to bring a truly modern and audaciously abstract sensibility to the landscape design tradition In Cornelia Hahn Oberlander Making the Modern Landscape Susan Herrington draws upon archival research site analyses and numerous interviews with Oberlander and her collaborators to offer the first biography of this adventurous and influential landscape architect Born in 1921 Oberlander fled Nazi Germany at the age of eighteen with her family going on to become one of the few women to graduate from Harvard University's Graduate School of Design in the late 1940s For six decades she has practiced socially responsible and ecologically sensitive planning for public landscapes including the 1970s design of the Robson Square landscape and its adjoining Provincial Law Courts one of Vancouver's most famous spaces Herrington places Oberlander within a larger social and aesthetic context chronicling both her personal and professional trajectory and her work in New York Philadelphia Vancouver Seattle Berlin Toronto and Montreal Oberlander is a progenitor of some of the most significant currents informing landscape architecture today particularly in the area of ecological focus In her thorough biography Herrington draws much deserved attention to one of the truly important figures in landscape architecture
