La Fille Aux Yeux Dor Histoire Des Treize:

Histoire des treize Honoré de Balzac, 1834      The Girl with the Golden Eyes Honoré De Balzac, 2017-12-11 The story follows the decadent heir Henri de Marsay who becomes enamored of the eponymous beauty Paquita Valdes and plots to seduce her. He succeeds but becomes disillusioned when he discovers she is also involved with another lover and so plots to murder her. When he arrives to kill her he discovers that she is already dead by the hand of her lover his half sister. She declares that Paquita came from a land where women are no more than chattels able to be bought and used in any way. In the last lines of the story de Marsay tells a friend that the girl has died of something to do with the heart.      Disorienting

Vision Inge E. Boer, 2004 Boer provides close readings of philosophical and literary texts, paintings, prints and other artefacts of the French Orientalists tradition. Her readings establish a dialogue with critical post colonial and feminist theory as well as art historical and literary scholarship.

Empathy and the Strangeness of Fiction Maria C. Scott, 2020-03-02 Explores how and why narrative fiction engages empathy including Theory of Mind. Offers a broad overview of current scientific work on the effects of fiction reading on empathy including Theory of Mind. Provides an original intervention in the field of literary theory centring on the reflexive properties of the fictional stranger. Includes stand alone close readings of three novels by important French authors. This book studies recent psychological findings which suggest that reading fiction cultivates empathy encouraging us to be critically reflective, suspicious readers as well as participatory naïve readers. Scott draws on literary theory and close readings to argue that engagement with fictional stories also teaches us to resist uncritical forms of empathy and reminds us of the limitations of our ability to understand other people. The book treats figures of the stranger in Balzac's La Fille aux yeux d'or, Stendhal's Le Rouge et le Noir and Sand's Indiana as emblematic of the strangeness of narrative fiction both drawing us in and keeping us at a distance.      The Literary Channel

Margaret Cohen, Carolyn Dever, 2009-02-14 The Literary Channel defines a crucial transnational literary zone that shaped the development of the modern novel. During the first two centuries of the genre's history Britain and France were locked in political, economic and military struggle. The period also saw British and French writers, critics and readers enthusiastically exchanging works, codes and theories of the novel. Building on both nationally based literary history and comparatist work on poetics, this book rethinks the genre's evolution as marking the power and limits of modern cultural nationalism. In the Channel zone the novel developed through interactions among texts, readers, writers and translators that inextricably linked national literary cultures. It served as a forum to promote and critique nationalist clichés whether from the standpoint of Enlightenment cosmopolitanism, the insurgent nationalism of colonized spaces or the non-nationalized culture of consumption. In the process the Channel zone promoted codes that became the genre's hallmarks, including the sentimental poetics that would shape fiction through the nineteenth century. Uniting leading critics who bridge literary history and theory, The Literary Channel will appeal to all readers attentive to the future of literary studies as well as those interested in the novel's development.
