The Well-Trained Mind Susan Wise Bauer, Jessie Wise, 2016-08-09 Is your child getting lost in the system becoming bored losing his or her natural eagerness to learn If so it may be time to take charge of your child's education by doing it yourself The Well Trained Mind will instruct you step by step on how to give your child an academically rigorous comprehensive education from preschool through high school one that will train him or her to read to think to understand to be well rounded and curious about learning Veteran home educators Susan Wise Bauer and Jessie Wise outline the classical pattern of education called the trivium which organizes learning around the maturing capacity of the child's mind and comprises three stages the elementary school grammar stage when the building blocks of information are absorbed through memorization and rules the middle school logic stage in which the student begins to think more analytically and the high school rhetoric stage where the student learns to write and speak with force and originality Using this theory as your model you'll be able to instruct your child whether full time or as a supplement to classroom education in all levels of reading writing history geography mathematics science foreign languages rhetoric logic art and music regardless of your own aptitude in those subjects Thousands of parents and teachers have already used the detailed book lists and methods described in The Well Trained Mind to create a truly superior education for the children in their care This extensively revised fourth edition contains completely updated curricula and book lists links to an entirely new set of online resources new material on teaching children with learning challenges cutting edge math and sciences recommendations answers to common questions about home education and advice on practical matters such as standardized testing working with your local school board designing a high school program preparing transcripts and applying to colleges You do have control over what and how your child learns The Well Trained Mind will give you the tools you'll need to teach your child with confidence and success

The Nature and Nurture of Learners Meryl E. Englander, 2010 Prospective and in service teachers are the intended readers of this book Teaching involves much more than dispensing knowledge Teaching is a process of arranging activities that will enable individuals to learn and behave appropriately The appropriateness of the activities depends on the degree they interact with the status of the targeted individuals Just as physicians need to know about the nature of the human body and carpenters need to know about the nature of wood teachers need to know about the nature of people that is related to learning and behavior Thereby the focus of this text is the relevant personal characteristics the intellect motivation and sense of self each of which influence learning and behavior Research findings and models within educational psychology are used to define the relevant human personal characteristics In order to arrange meaningful activities teachers strive to achieve selected objectives The text identifies four broad objectives within which specific lesson objectives can be identified The objectives themselves and more particularly the proposed activities must be oriented around the personal characteristics of the targeted learners Age grade level ethnic background and gender are insufficient indicators of learner qualifications

Relevant information for learning are within individual learners as exhibited through behavior Observations are the key indicators of learner readiness to learn The text recommends that students begin now to develop skills for identifying the status of learners and classroom conditions through interviews noting various classroom behaviors and analyzing the findings by developing portfolios Small group discussions are encouraged so that students can share skills in analyzing real problems and thereby develop habits and skills for working with colleagues

Odd Perceptions Richard L. Gregory,2017-03-27 Richard Gregory was one of the major scientific thinkers of our time Originally published in 1986 here he presents essays on the rich subject of perception How we experience colours shapes sounds touches tickles tastes and smells is a mysterious and rich inquiry Wonderful as these sensations are though he argues that perception becomes really interesting when we consider how objects are identified and located in space and time as things we interact with using our intelligence to understand them Gregory s essays convey the crucial importance of the major scientists and their achievements in the study of perception but they also show us how much we can learn from our surroundings our language our times our successes and our failures Why are we so often fooled in scientific as well as everyday life
