Music Strapline Ideas:

Music: Ideas in Profile Andrew Gant, 2017-03-02 Ideas in Profile Series Is music a science or an art It s both as Andrew Gant reveals in this lively and accessible account of what music is and what it s for Music has been central to life since the dawn of humankind and is intimately bound up with the origins of language Andrew Gant introduces us to its long history and its many genres and manifestations He explains how composers compose players play and singers sing He looks at how musical styles develop the ways they fall in and out of fashion and why certain kinds of music dancing and love songs for example is a universal in human culture He considers how music is composed the nature of genius and the workings of inspiration He shows how music can be composed and used to stir patriotism instill courage reinforce identity sell a product or make a political point And he goes beyond humans to examine music in the natural world in the creativity of birdsong This is in short the ideal introduction to a very big subject Music Trade Indicator ,1928 Literacy Place ,1996

Critical Mass James W. St.G. Walker, Andrew S. Thompson, 2008-02-21 Public concern about inequitable economic globalization has revealed the demand for citizen participation in global decision making Civil society organizations have taken up the challenge holding governments and corporations accountable for their decisions and actions and developing collaborative solutions to the dominant problems of our time Critical Mass The Emergence of Global Civil Society offers a unique mixture of experience and analysis by the leaders of some of the most influential global civil society organizations and respected academics who specialize in this field of study Co published with the Centre for International Governance Innovation The Purchaser's Guide to the Music Industries ,1966 Play, Creativity and Digital Cultures Rebekah Willett, Muriel Robinson, Jackie Marsh, 2012-08-21 Recent work on children s digital cultures has identified a range of literacies emerging through children s engagement with new media technologies This edited collection focuses on children s digital cultures specifically examining the role of play and creativity in learning with these new technologies The chapters in this book were contributed by an international range of respected researchers who seek to extend our understandings of children s interactions with new media both within and outside of school They address and provide evidence for continuing debates around the following questions What notions of creativity are useful in our fields How does an understanding of play inform analysis of children s engagement with digital cultures How might school practice take account of out of school learning in relation to digital cultures How can we understand children s engagements with digital technologies in commercialized spaces Offering current research theoretical debate and empirical studies this intriguing text will challenge the thinking of scholars and teachers alike as it explores the evolving nature of play within the media landscape of the twenty first century Prize Contests Helen King, 1949 Buyer's Guide to the Piano, Organ and General Music Trades ,1966 On the Record Steven Joyce, 2023-08-15 A candid and comprehensive account from one of National s main powerbrokers during the John Key years Few ministers have such influence and make the impact and contribution Steven

Joyce did We knew him as Mr Fixit the press gallery called him The Minister for Everything but the public saw it more simply He was the guy who got the stuff they wanted done and he did it in spades and with style Sir John Key Steven Joyce was at the heart of the sustained policy and political success of the John Key government He has a unique combination of discipline positivity and political acumen He got stuff done Sir Bill English Before Steven Joyce entered politics he had a hugely successful 17 year career building and running the radio network RadioWorks He learnt to cut deals compete ferociously and carefully manage the on air talent They were all skills he would put to great use when he joined the National Party After entering Parliament in 2008 when John Key took back power from Labour Joyce was appointed directly into Cabinet and was a senior minister for almost all of his 10 years in Parliament Alongside his portfolios including transport infrastructure tertiary education and economic development Joyce occupied a pivotal role as National s campaign strategist including leading the party s winning campaigns in 2008 2011 and 2014 Such was Joyce s effectiveness he gained the nickname of Minister for Everything Alongside Key and Bill English Joyce was one of the main powerbrokers of the Key government as both strategist and upholder of party discipline Here Joyce details the hard slog discipline and negotiating skills necessary to thrive in the often brutal world of politics On the Record reveals what it takes to win and keep office and the secrets behind the strategy and campaigning that led to National being in power for almost a decade This is an essential read for anyone interested in the business of governing packed full of insider knowledge honest appraisals of the main players entertaining anecdotes and the reality of how politics works

The British Musical Film John Mundy, 2007-07-15 The British Musical Film is the first book to examine this neglected area of British cinema as it developed from the early so called silent period to the present Offering a comprehensive survey of musical films across the decades it also includes detailed critical analysis of individual films The Red Shoes and Oliver among them and the creative personnel who worked on them

Communication and the Mass Media Eleanor S. Block, James K. Bracken, 1991 Marketing, 2009

Monster Magic Zinita Fowler, 1983 Intended as a usable resource for librarians and teachers in planning and implementing a program for young library users and students this book was developed to stimulate children to use the library The introduction contains opening comments including an explanation of how the theme of monster magic inspires creativity specific goals and a planning guide The next section on background and sources includes a general definition of a monster and definitions of six specific kinds of monsters each of which is followed by an annotated bibliography prehistoric folk and legendary literary film and television mysterious true life and space The list of media resources that follows lists audio visual packets 16 mm films books to help in planning activities inexpensive books and materials and books to share at storytime The activities section contains ideas for activities that are fun designed to encourage more reading on the subject of monsters and include a monster meter a method for recording work done Also included in this section is a list of books to read a blank form for filling in books already read puzzles riddles and a list of riddle sources The games section presents both indoor and outdoor games while the memorable monster music section includes appropriate songs The wrap up section offers suggestions for bringing the program to a final conclusion using the monster revue as the culminating activity A list of ideas for promoting the program and an answer sheet to the riddles are provided in the appendixes EL American Art in Stone ,1939 Composing with PFS-Professional Write Hewitt,Rosalie Hewitt,1988 Bausch and Lomb Magazine ,1940 Gramophone ,2003 The Gramophone ,2003 Invisible Jukebox Tony Herrington,1998 Forty star guests Philip Glass Elvis Castello Ice T and others are played an eclectic and provoking series of records which they are asked to identify and comment on with no prior knowledge of what it is they will hear The conversations that ensue are often controversial and always entertaining Less Walk More Talk Russell Southwood,2008 Celtel was founded in Europe by an African expatriate the Sudanese Mo Ibrahim who went from being the son of a humble clerk to running one of the continent s most successful mobile operators His work in Britain led him to become a senior figure in UK mobile operator BT Celtel before launching his own company Against all the odds he and the international team he put together convinced skeptical international bankers to invest in the company and demonstrated that the African continent was a place where money could be made Celtel went from being a start up that could barely afford to bid for new licences to acquiring the continent s largest mobile operator in Nigeria for a billion dollars five years later Although Africa is not entirely the land of civil war and famine seen nightly on TV screens across the world it is probably one of the toughest places on the planet to do business In countries with almost no infrastructure Celtel built networks and sold phones to consumers clamouring to buy their product Through making a number of technical innovations they took the mobile from being a product only for the elite to a position where nearly everyone could afford access to it More than in the developed world access to mobile phones in Africa has begun to change how life is led It has had an impact on people s personal lives the way business is done and even on politics
