La Nuit Sera Calme:

Romain Gary David Bellos, 2010-11-30 Airman war hero immigrant law student diplomat novelist and celebrity spouse Romain Gary had several lives thrust upon him by the history of the twentieth century but he also aspired to lead many more He wrote more than two dozen books and a score of short stories under several different names in two languages English and French neither of which was his mother tongue Gary had a gift for narrative that endeared him to ordinary readers but won him little respect among critics far more intellectual than he could ever be His varied and entertaining writing career tells a different story about the making of modern literary culture from the one we are accustomed to hearing Born Roman Kacew in Vilna now Lithuania in 1914 and raised by only his mother after his father left them Gary rose to become French Consul General in Los Angeles and the only man ever to win the Goncourt Prize twice This biography follows the many threads that lead from Gary's wartime adventures and early literary career to his years in Hollywood and his marriage to the actress Jean Seberg It illuminates his works in all their incarnations and culminates in the tale of his most brilliant deception the fabrication of a complex identity for his most successful nom de plume mile Ajar In his new portrait of Gary David Bellos brings biographical research together with literary and cultural analysis to make sense of the many lives of Romain Gary a hero fit for our times as well as his own Auschwitz and After Lawrence D. Kritzman, 2014-02-04 Beginning with Marcel Ophus's documentary The Sorrow and the Pity 1970 there has been an attempt to question the idea of a totally unified courageous and resistant wartime France Even more startling have been the increasingly shocking revelations that the politics of collaboration were a mere extension of a deep seated French anti semitic tradition In the shadow of these developments French writers and philosophers today are reflecting on the meaning of Jewish identity in the contemporary world Auschwitz and After analyses for the first time how the memory of Auschwitz and the collaboration continue to haunt the French These critical evaluations are accompanied by provocative essays on the Jewish Question and the politics of race as they have been studied by writers historians philosophers and film makers in postwar France European Literary Immigration Into the French Language Tijana Miletić, 2008 The critical emotional and intellectual change which every immigrant is obliged to endure and confront is experienced with singular intensity by immigrant writers who have also adopted another language for their literary expression Concentrating on European authors of the second half of the twentieth century who have chosen French as a language for their literary expression and in particular the novels by Romain Gary Agota Kristof Milan Kundera and Jorge Semprun with reference to many others European Literary Immigration into the French Language explores some of the common elements in these works of fiction which despite the varied personal circumstances and literary aesthetics of the authors follow a similar path in the building of a literary identity and legitimacy in the new language The choice of the French language is inextricably linked with the subsequent literary choices of these writers This study charts a new territory within Francophone and European literary studies in treating the European immigrants as a separate group and in applying linguistic sociological and psychoanalytical ideas in the analysis of the works of fiction and thus represents a relevant contribution to the understanding of European cultural identity This volume is relevant to French and European literature scholars and anyone with interest in immigration European identity or second language adoption Holocaust Literature: Agosin to Lentin S.
