Poets and Murder Robert van Gulik, 2010-11-15 Judge Dee master detective of seventh century China sets out to solve a puzzling double murder and discovers complex passions lurking beneath academia A mild mannered student is rumored to have been slain by a fox demon while a young dancer meets her death as she dresses to perform for the magistrate s illustrious dinner guests an obese Zen monk revered for his calligraphy a beautiful poetess accused of murder and the past president of the imperial academy To connect the present crimes with betrayals and adulteries from decades past the clever Judge Dee must visit a high class brothel and the haunted shrine of the Black Fox From the moment the young scholar is found dead on the eve of the Autumn Festival the pace never lets up in this mystery from the masterful Robert Van Gulick The China of old in Mr van Gulik s skilled hands comes vividly alive again Allen J Hubin New York Times Book Review If you have not yet discovered Judge Dee I envy you that initial pleasure For the magistrate of Poo yang belongs in that select group headed by Sherlock Holmes Robert Kirsch Los Angeles Times      Manx Murders Keith Wilkinson, 2012-04-27 A beautiful island lying in the northern part of the Irish Sea between England Scotland Ireland and Wales the Isle of Man was once a popular holiday destination It is perhaps better known today for the TT motorcycle races held there its tailless cats and Manx kippers However it also has its darker side Manx Murders is a collection of gripping and mysterious murder cases committed on the Island over the last 150 years from the brutal slaying of a spinster one dark night on a lonely track near Ramsey to the infamous Golden Egg Murder in central Douglas The cases that have caused shock and sensation throughout two centuries of the Island s history are recorded here as the author reveals the events behind the last hanging on the Island a deathbed confession the harrowing story of a murderous father and the cases that remain unsolved to this day The Island s political importance as a wartime holding area for prisoners of war is also explored through the account of a bizarre seemingly motiveless killing in 1916 and the stabbing of a Finnish prisoner during the Second World War Using information obtained from newspapers inquest records and trial transcripts whenever these were available each murder is described against the backdrop of contemporary events to give the reader a distinct flavour of life at the time of the crime While each case is unique all share an overwhelming sadness and tragedy that will never be forgotten      The Murders in Surrey Wood John Floyd Arnold, 1928      Murder in Our Midst Agatha Christie, 1967 3 complete mystery novels The body in the library Murder at the Vicarage The Moving Finger      Murder by Candlelight Michael Knox Beran, 2015-08-15 In the early nineteenth century a series of murders took place in and around London which shocked the whole of England The appalling nature of the crimes a brutal slaying in the gambling netherworld the slaughter of two entire households and the first of the modern lust murders was magnified not only by the lurid atmosphere of an age in which candlelight gave way to gaslight but also by the efforts of some of the keenest minds of the period to uncover the gruesome details of the killings These slayings took place against the backdrop of a London in which the splendor of the fashionable world was haunted by the squalor of the slums Sir Walter Scott Lord Byron Thomas De Quincey Thomas Carlyle and Percy Bysshe Shelley and others were fascinated by the blood and devilry of the macabre In their contemplations of the most notorious murders of their time they discerned in the act of killing itself a depth of hideousness that we have lost sight of now living in an age in which murder has been reduced to a problem of social science and skillful detective work Interweaving these cultural vignettes alongside criminal history acclaimed author Michael Beran paints a vivid picture of a time when homicide was thought of as the intrusion of the diabolic into ordinary life Murder in St. John's Wood E.
