Muslims in Western Politics Abdulkader H. Sinno, 2009. Islam as a social and political force in Western liberal democracies. Citizen Islam Zeyno Baran, 2011-07-21. Since September 11 Western governments have legitimized and empowered nonviolent Islamists as representatives of Islam for all Muslims in the West, an approach that has worried Muslim moderates. Citizen Islam addresses the implications of this approach. The book opens with an overview of the theology and history of Islam to show that violence and intolerance are not fundamental aspects of the religion. It then explains the growth of Islamism in Europe and in the United States before suggesting that both are finally beginning to recognize the threat posed by nonviolent Islamists. Lastly, it outlines steps that Western and Muslim leaders can take to strengthen moderate Islam and counter the threat of Islamism. Written by Zeyno Baran, a Turkish-born Muslim, Citizen Islam sheds a sharp light on Muslim communities in the West. It concludes that there is much that Western governments can still do to reverse the spread of Islamism. But they must act quickly.

The Political Psychology of Globalization Catarina Kinnvall, Paul Nesbitt-Larking, 2011-08-01. In an increasingly globalized world, there are new economic, strategic, cultural, and political forces at work. The Political Psychology of Globalization: Muslims in the West explores how these shifts and shocks have influenced the way in which Muslim minorities in western countries form their identities as political actors. Catarina Kinnvall and Paul Nesbitt-Larking uncover three identity strategies adopted by Muslims in the West: retreatism, essentialism, and engagement. Six western countries—Canada, Denmark, France, the Netherlands, Sweden, and the United Kingdom—serve as places for exploration of the emergence of these Muslim political identities. These countries are discussed in light of their colonial histories, patterns of immigration, and citizenship regimes. Although retreatism, essentialism, and engagement occur in Muslim citizens of each of the six western nations discussed in this book, the countries that are best able to balance individual and community rights are most successful in promoting the politics of engagement. In contrast, regimes that focus on anti-terrorist legislation and discourses and support majority political cultures that are exclusionary also promote retreatism and essentialist identity strategies in both minority and majority communities The authors discuss the importance of a climate of engagement that is based on recognition dialogue deep multiculturalism a new global and cosmopolitical consciousness and a sense of political identity that transcends national boundaries and regimes
