Excerpt from Flowers Culled From the Gulistan or Rose Garden and From the Bostan or Pleasure Garden of Sadi A Persian Poet Who Flourished in the 13th Century I have wandered through various quarters of the world And spent my days conversing with every one I met In every corner I found something to profit me From every sheaf I gathered an ear On one occasion he tells us himself that whilst he had withdrawn into the desert near Jerusalem to perform his religious exercises he was made captive by the Franks who sent him to work with some Jews in digging the trenches at Tripoli Here he was recognized by an acquaintance whom he had known at Aleppo and who pitying his sad condition redeemed him with ten dinars took him home with him and subsequently married him to his daughter giving him a portion of one hundred dinars This marriage did not prove a happy one Her disposition he says was ill tempered and abusive so that it quite destroyed his comfort One day tauntingly she exclaimed Art not thou the man whom my father bought for ten dinars Yes he replied and sold to thee for a hundred Sadi married a second time at Sanaa the capital of Yemen We may hope that his second nuptials were crowned with more felicity than his first appears to have been In the Bostan is found an affecting passage in which he deplores the death of his son in terms of the most poignant anguish The events of Sadi s life recorded by his biographers are but few About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Gulistan, or Rose Garden Sadi,1850 The Gulistan or Rose garden with the Bustan or Pleasure garden written in the margin The Gulistan Or Rose Garden of Shaikh Sa'di of Shiraz John T Platts,2006-12 Sadi s Gulistan or The Rose Garden is both one of the best known of the Sufi classics and a major work of Persian literature From its creation in the first half of the 13th century this work has attained popularity in the East and is quoted by schoolchildren and scholars alike Sadi s Gulistan or The Rose Garden is both one of the best known of the Sufi classics and a major work of Persian literature From its creation in the first half of the 13th century this work has attained popularity in the East and is quoted by schoolchildren and scholars alike The Gulistan; Or Rose-garden Sa'di (of Shīrāz),1853 The Gulistan; Or, Rose Garden Musle-Huddeen Sâdy (shaik, of Sheeraz),Sa'di,1808 Rose-Leaves from
