Marie Bashkirtseffs Life In Self Portraits:

Marie Bashkirtseff's Life in Self-portraits (1858-1884) Louly Peacock Konz, 2005 This scholarly monograph on the Ukrainian born Russian diarist artist and sculptor Marie Bashkirtseff 1858 1884 makes an important contribution to a better understanding of the life and art of this important figure as well as to the general fields of art history social history and also women s studies through its depiction of how a woman attempted to chart her own course as an artist in the male dominated world of French society Bashkirtseff s whole approach to life was that of an artist with her very person itself being a work of art that was on exhibit for the world to see The author s fascinating work examines the many ways that Bashkirtseff used the techniques of what she terms disguise and disclosure as she experimented with a variety of constructions of herself as a number of different characters over her short life The twenty six illustrations that have been included in this book will add greatly to its value

Redefining Gender in American Impressionist Studio Paintings Kirstin Ringelberg, 2017-07-05 Were late nineteenth century gender boundaries as restrictive as is generally held In Redefining Gender in American Impressionist Studio Paintings Work Place Domestic Space Kirstin Ringelberg argues that it is time to bring the current re evaluation of the notion of separate spheres to these images Focusing on studio paintings by American artists William Merritt Chase and Mary Fairchild MacMonnies Low she explores how the home based painting studio existed outside of entrenched gendered divisions of public and private space and argues that representations of these studios are at odds with standard perceptions of the images their creators and the concept of gender in the nineteenth century Unlike most of their bourgeois contemporaries Gilded Age artists whether male or female often melded the worlds of work and home Through analysis of both paintings and literature of the time Ringelberg reveals how art history continues to support a false dichotomy that in fact paintings that show women negotiating a complex combination of professionalism and domesticity are still overlooked in favor of those that emphasize women as decorative objects Redefining Gender in American Impressionist Studio Paintings challenges the dominant interpretation of American and European Impressionism and considers both men and women artists as active performers of multivalent identities
