Melmoth Lhomme Errant:

Charles Robert Maturin and the haunting of Irish romantic Fiction Christina Morin, 2017-06-01 A self described disappointed Author Charles Robert Maturin 1780 1824 has been largely relegated to the margins of literary history since his death in 1824 Yet as this study demonstrates he exerted a fundamental influence on the development of Irish fiction in the early nineteenth century In particular his novels dramatically underscore the continuing presence and deployment of the Gothic mode in Romantic Ireland an influence now frequently overlooked in critical attention to the national and regional forms popularized in Ireland in the wake of Anglo Irish Union 1801 Working from Jacques Derrida s influential theory on ghosts this study positions Maturin as the cornerstone on which to build a new paradigm of Irish Romantic fiction one which accounts for the spectral traces of the past cultural social and political evident in early nineteenth century Irish fiction As it does so it calls for renewed critical and popular attention to an author who himself continues spectrally to emerge in the works of his literary successors
