Julie Fry, Peter Wilson

Memorandum Of Economics Paper 1 Caps November 2013:

Better Lives Julie Fry, Peter Wilson, 2018-04-09 Better Lives provides a comprehensive overview of immigration in New Zealand showing how immigration is not just an economic imperative that needs to be managed but an opportunity to enhance people's lives. This book shifts immigration debate in Aotearoa in exactly the right direction. Bulletin, 2013

Handbook on Cohesion Policy in the EU Simona Piattoni, Laura Polverari, 2016-08-26 This Handbook covers all major aspects of EU Cohesion policy, one of the most significant areas of intervention of the European Union. Over five parts, it discusses this policy's history and governing principles, the theoretical approaches from which it can be assessed, the inter-institutional and multi-level dynamics that it tends to elicit, its practical implementation and impact on EU member states, its interactions with other EU policies and strategies, and the cognitive maps and narratives with which it can be associated. An absolute must for all students of the EU.

International Studies Scott Straus, Barry Driscoll, 2021-01-05 The challenge of teaching international studies is to help students think coherently about the multiple causes and effects of global problems. In International Studies: Global Forces, Interactions, and Tensions, award-winning scholars Scott Straus and Barry Driscoll introduce students to the foundations of the course: the major actors, institutions, and theories, as well as the contemporary problems that will matter most to students. In the fully updated Second Edition, the authors give students a clear framework that pinpoints how key factors, forces, interactions, and tensions contribute to current world events and global problems like human rights abuses, economic inequality, pandemic, and global health responses, and food security. The book raises the bar for the Introduction to International Studies course and is relevant to students from a wide variety of backgrounds with diverse interests in geography, sociology, political science, and anthropology. Global Agriculture and the American Farmer Kimberly Ann Elliott, 2017-06-27 The United States is one of the world's largest producers and exporters of a range of agricultural commodities and the largest provider of foreign assistance, so U.S. policies have big effects on global food security and other global public goods linked to agriculture. On the positive side of the ledger, President Obama created the Feed the Future aid initiative to promote agricultural development in poorer countries as a tool to achieve the global goals of ending hunger and extreme poverty, which are mostly rural. But that generosity is undercut by U.S. support for farmers that distorts global markets and ignores negative spillovers for the rest of the world. In this book, Elliott focuses on three policy areas that are particularly damaging for developing countries: traditional agricultural subsidy and trade policies that support the incomes of American farmers at the expense of farmers elsewhere; the biofuels mandate, which in its current form increases market volatility while doing little if anything to mitigate climate change; and weak regulation of antibiotic use in livestock, which contributes to the global spread of drug-resistant super bugs. While noting that broad reforms are needed to fix these problems, Elliott also identifies practical steps that U.S. policymakers could take in the relatively short run to improve farm policies for American taxpayers and consumers as well as for the poor and vulnerable in developing countries

Emissions Trading Schemes and Their Linking Asian Development Bank, 2016-04-01 Asia and the Pacific has achieved rapid economic expansion in the recent years and has become a major source of greenhouse gas GHG emissions With more than half of the world's population and high rates of economic growth the region is especially vulnerable to the effects of climate change and therefore must play its part in cutting GHG emissions The Paris Agreement adopted last December 2015 at the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change COP21 aims to restrict global warming to well below 2 C above preindustrial levels and to pursue efforts to reach 1.5 C which is especially relevant to Asia and the Pacific region given its vulnerability This knowledge product highlights how robust policies on emissions trading systems ETS can be important tools in reducing GHG emissions in a cost effective manner as well as supporting the mobilization of finance together with deployment of innovative technologies There are currently 17 ETSs in place in four continents and account for nearly 40% of global gross domestic product In Asia and the Pacific region there are 11 systems operating with more being planned The growing wealth of experience on ETSs can be valuable to support DMCs that are planning and designing new systems of their own This knowledge product summarizes some of the most significant learning experiences to date and discusses some of the solutions to alleviate challenges that have been faced It also examines the possibilities for future linked carbon markets in the region

The Future of High-Cost Credit Jodi Gardner, 2022-07-14 This book proposes a new way of thinking about the controversial and complex challenges associated with the regulation of high cost credit specifically payday lending These products have received significant attention in both the media and political arena The inadequacy of regulatory interventions has created ongoing problems with the provision of high cost credit particularly for consumers with lesser bargaining power and who are already financially vulnerable The book tackles two specific gaps in the existing literature The first involves inadequate analysis of the relevant philosophical concepts around high cost credit which can result in an oversimplification of what are particularly complex issues The second is a lack of engagement in both the market and lived experience of borrowers resulting in limited understanding of those who use these financial products The Future of High Cost Credit explores the theoretical grounding policy initiatives and interdisciplinary perspectives associated with high cost credit making a novel and insightful contribution to the existing literature The problems with debt extend far beyond the legal sphere and the book will therefore be of interest to many other academic disciplines as well as for those working in public policy and the third sector

Carbon Markets Around the Globe Rudolph, Sven, Aydos, Elena, 2021-09-09 In this timely book Sven Rudolph and Elena Aydos take an interdisciplinary approach that combines sustainability economics political economy and legal concepts to answer two fundamental questions How can carbon markets be designed to be effective efficient and just at the same time And how can the political barriers to sustainable carbon markets be overcome The authors advance existing theoretical frameworks and examine empirical data from various real life emissions trading schemes identifying strategies and policy windows for implementing truly sustainable ETS Fiscal Sustainability of Health Systems ,2015 The health systems we enjoy today and expected medical advances in the future will be difficult to finance from public resources without major reforms Public health spending in OECD countries has grown rapidly over most of the last half century These spending increases have contributed to important progress in population health for example life expectancy at birth has increased rising on average by ten years since 1970 The challenge now is to sustain and enhance these achievements in a context of tight fiscal constraints in many countries combined with upward pressure on health spending from factors such as new technological advances and demographic changes Finding policies that can make health spending more sustainable without compromising important achievements in access and quality requires effective co operation between health and finance ministries Sound governance and co ordination mechanisms are therefore essential to ensure effective policy choices Prepared by both public finance and health experts this report provides a unique detailed overview of institutional frameworks for financing health care in OECD countries One of the main features of this book is a comprehensive mapping of budgeting practices and governance structure in health across OECD countries Outlook on Agriculture ,2015 Who's who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges ,1967 The Annalist ,1934
