Cortazar, 2014-04-11 This volume addresses some lacunae in Hispanic linguistic research by focusing on new scholarly directions exploring understudied topics as well as speech communities and presenting new takes on relevant linguistic and sociocultural issues This publication answers questions which have emerged as a result of the rapid increase in Hispanic linguistic research since the latter part of the twentieth century or that have remained open in spite of it With the rapid growth of Hispanic Linguistics during the 21st century the topics included in this volume are representative of the breadth vitality and interdisciplinarity of contemporary linguistic scholarship They also reflect that linguistics in general has become more methodologically sophisticated This book is comprised of twelve chapters divided into three parts Part I addresses language ideology and language contact issues that are embedded in important sociolinguistic and cultural topics chronologically spanning from the 16th century to the present Although these issues take place in Spain the United States Turkey and Ecuador they pertain ideologically to all corners of the Hispanic World and beyond Part II is devoted to pragmatics and language variation with topics that transport us to Colombia Mexico Spain and Venezuela The study of politeness strategies shows how Spanish speakers reduce social distance between interlocutors as they make conversation a pleasant and cooperative meeting place Concurrently sociolinguistic innovations reveal interesting parallels among several speech communities Part III explores linguistic variation as it relates to theoretical structural and instructional issues Although these topics are analyzed based mainly on linguistic usage in Bolivia Colombia the Dominican Republic Ecuador Panama and Spain as with the rest of this volume their relevance reaches far beyond the confines of the Hispanic World This book is unique in multiple ways and complements a number of existing publications Training Readers and Writers for a Multimodal and Multimedia Society: Cognitive Aspects Ester Trigo-Ibanez, Inmaculada Clotilde Santos Diaz, Marcela Jarpa, 2024-02-07 Contemporary societies have been advancing gradually towards the construction of a model of a literate population Significant efforts have been made so that most citizens can access various sources today using their reading and writing abilities but are we really prepared to face the information age Is information literacy being promoted from schools Are individual capabilities being considered Do we have a true critical literacy This article collection aims to show an overview of the most recent research ranging from the individual to the collective from the subject's competencies and their beliefs to the way to develop them from school There is room in this Research Topic for investigations belonging to the linguistic psychological and didactic field This Research Topic aims to address a pressing problem in contemporary world societies It is proposed to offer various contributions related to critical literacy in general and reading and writing In this sense research that addresses analog and digital reading writing processes academic literacy and the use of resources such as non fiction illustrated books to develop critical thinking will be welcome But also and in a very important way the cognitive processes of the subject will be considered not only to deal with access to information but also in the construction of their mental lexicon an issue that offers the vision of the world of those who are immersed in literacy and in the post truth era
