Customers that Count Tony Cram, 2001 A wonderfully fresh look at CRM Customers that Count starts with the theses that the nature of human relationship provides a model for creating business loyalty then reviews important rules of friendship that will help you to build customer relationships Filled with lots of valuable case histories this is an idea a minute read Frederick Newell author of The New Rules of Marketing Securing repeat business from good customers through long term loyal relationships is the key to generating profit However there are two key elements to this that most people ignore or misunderstand First the notion of good customers That means you have to concentrate on customers that count the ones who deliver profits Equally importantly it means that you should learn to sack bad customers the others who are destroying value Second the notion of loyal relationships A loyal relationship is one that lives and goes beyond the database If you want these customers loyalty you have to treat them like valued human beings not just numbers This book is more than just another book on CRM It goes beyond the concept of capturing customers into captivating them In a world where consumer choice has never been greater and where the cost of acquiring new customers is sometimes more than the value they bring in you can't afford to treat all customers the same the company that seems human will win As customer value replaces cost control as the guiding principle of management Tony Cram reveals how to manage the customers that count

High Street Heroes John Timpson, 2015-10-15 WHEN BUSINESSMAN John Timpson started his retailing career in 1960 there were no supermarkets no out of town shopping centres and not even a hint of internet shopping The British high street was full of made to measure tailors and traditional grocers Among the household names were Mac Fisheries Dewhurst John Collier and Timothy Whites Tailors In this enjoyable new book Timpson shows how successive generations of forward thinking shopkeepers and inspirational entrepreneurs have led the major retailers through a period of rapid change people such as Ken Morrison Ralph Halpern Terence Conran and Anita Roddick without whom our high streets would have looked very different This unique survey from a man who knows a few things about success in retail paints a compelling personal and vivid picture of how shops have changed over the last 100 years and reveals who Timpson thinks has had the biggest influence on the shape of shopping in the retail revolution that we have witnessed since the 1970s Zambia Telephone

Braby's Cape Province Directory, 1992 Light Vehicle Tyres Neil Mullineux, 2004 The tyre industry is the largest single rubber manufacturing industry in the world The high performance demanded of tyres has led to extensive research and development in this field and constant innovation This report takes an overview of the latest technology combined with the market situation worldwide Three large companies Bridgestone Goodyear and Michelin now dominate the world tyre market with a share of about 56 per cent There then follow four mid sized companies which have about 18 per cent of the world market Continental Sumitomo Pirelli and Yokohama with a combined share of 17.6 per cent In total eleven companies account for 81.6 per cent of the world market Even though the largest companies have a turnover well in excess of USD10bn they remain largely specialist tyre manufacturers Many of the smaller companies also concentrate almost exclusively on tyres However the medium sized companies are diversifying away from tyre manufacturing Unusually if not uniquely in the automotive components industry the tyre manufacturers only sell a minority of their output to OEMs component is the size of the replacement market or aftermarket three quarters of road tyres are sold as replacement tyres and only one quarter as original equipment The big three tyre manufacturers dominate the OE market but other large regional players also have a share particularly in Europe Worldwide the replacement tyre market for light vehicles represents about 714m tyres The replacement tyre market is certainly more profitable for the tyre manufacturers but it has distinct problems. The general problems of slow growth and market maturity are exacerbated by cyclical growth in supply to OEMs. Despite the poor profitability of sales to OE customers and even though the replacement market represents over 70 per cent of the passenger car tyre industry's sales, tyre makers' profitability is also cyclical. The replacement market is a relatively profitable sector of the overall tyre market but it cannot compensate for the vagaries of the OE market. A traditional indication of market maturity is continual pricing pressure in the market, small competitors to keep continual pressure on prices. In broad terms, a tyre which cost USD69.90 in 1979 sold for USD41.02 in 2003. The major companies within the tyre industry are all constrained by the laws of economics and subject to similar commercial pressures. In very broad terms, the cost of tyre manufacture breaks into three parts: raw materials, labour, and fixed costs. The tyre industry has high fixed costs, making it extremely difficult to improve returns unless costs are cut or market share gained. Raw materials typically represent 25 per cent of the selling price of a car tyre. Labour costs represent about 30 per cent of sales, and this has led to a move for manufacture in lower labour cost countries. This has been helped by relatively low transportation costs for the inter-regional movement of tyres, about USD1.2 for a passenger tyre. In the last decade, all manufacturers have tried to increase productivity in existing operations in order to become low cost producers. The continuing drive for improved productivity has resulted in excess capacity in many areas and product sectors than demand. There is a close relationship between aggregate supply and profitability for individual tyre companies. As a result, there have been gradual moves towards consolidation. Before 1985, a dozen large companies dominated the world tyre market, but after a rapid series of mergers and acquisitions, seven companies emerged with three quarters of the market. Autocar, 2003.
