Iron Fist From The Sea South Africa S Seaborne Raiders 1978 1988:

Iron Fist from the Sea Douw Steyn, Arnè G. Söderlund, 2014 This seminal work documents the clandestine sea borne operations undertaken by South Africa's 4 Reconnaissance Commando Regiment. It breathtakingly reveals the versatility and effectiveness of this elite unit which worked with a range of other South African and Rhodesian forces including the Rhodesian SAS to engage in a range of raiding and war fighting activities. These operations saw the clandestine reconnaissance of harbors, the sinking of enemy shipping and the destruction of shore installations in Angola and Mozambique. Just some of the tasks undertaken by this extraordinary maritime capability which totaled no more than 45 operators, both black and white. With unparalleled access to previously secret material, the authors, both of whom worked to develop 4 Recce's operating capabilities, trace the origins of the Regiment back to the 1970s when the South African's determined the need for a maritime force projection capability. They relate how maritime doctrine was developed within South Africa's wider Special Forces capability and how joint operational approaches were configured with the South African Navy. This saw the development of a range of swimmer reconnaissance diving and boat operator training courses along with the design of specialist raiding craft and amphibious assault platforms which were originated to operate from the Navy's existing shipping and submarines. All of which demonstrated the immense potential of this newly emergent force and the resourcefulness of its individual operators. Required to successfully complete a grueling selection process, the operators of 4 Recce were relentlessly tested to prove their physical and mental mettle, not to mention their leadership skills and initiative. Steyn and Söderlund's chronological analysis of the operations undertaken by 4 Recce and the South African Navy is stunning to behold. They impartially detail the secret and specialized actions which saw both success and failure. From Cabinda on the West Coast to Tanzania on the East, 4 Recce, whose existence and capability was largely kept secret even within the South African Defence Force, conducted numerous clandestine raids. They attacked shipping and strategic targets such as oil facilities, transport infrastructure and even ANC offices. And sometimes the raids did go wrong spectacularly, so in one instance when two operators were killed and Captain Wynand Du Toit was captured. He was later paraded in front of the world's media, much to the embarrassment of the South African government. This is a fascinating work and one that will enthrall anyone with an interest in Special Forces operations. Profusely illustrated with many previously unpublished photographs, it stands as a testament to the author's endeavors as respectively the former Operations Commander of 4 Recce and the former Commander Task Group of the SA Navy, as well as the incredible operators of 4 Recce. Explosive and compulsive, Iron Fist from the Sea takes you right to the raging surf to the adrenaline and fear that is sea borne raiding.

Battle For Angola Al J. Venter, 2017-04-03 Following the publication of Al Venter's successful Portugal's Guerrilla Wars in Africa, shortlisted by the New York Military Affairs Symposium's Arthur Goodzeit Book Award for 2013, his Battle for Angola delves still further into the troubled history of this former Portuguese African colony. This is a completely fresh work running to almost 600 pages including 32 pages of color photos with the main thrust on events before and after the civil war that followed Lisbon's over hasty departure back to the metropole. There are also several sections that detail the role of South African mercenaries in defeating the rebel leader Dr Jonas Savimbi, considered by some as the most accomplished guerrilla leader to emerge in Africa in the past century. There are many chapters that deal with Pretoria's reaction to the deteriorating political and military situation in Angola, the role of the Soviets and mercenaries in the political transition as well as the civil war that followed. With the assistance of several notable military authorities, he elaborates in considerable detail on South Africa's 23-year Border War from the first guerrilla incursions to the last. In this regard, he received solid help from the former head of 4 Reconnaissance Regiment, Colonel Douw Steyn, who details several cross-border reconnaissance strikes including the sinking by frogmen of two Soviet ships and a Cuban freighter in an Angolan deepwater port. Throughout, the author was helped by a variety of notable authorities, including the French historian Dr René Pélissier and the American academic and former naval aviator Dr John Jack Cann. With their assistance, he covers several ancillary uprisings and invasions, including the Herero revolt of the early 20th century, the equally troubled Ovambo insurrection as well as the invasion of Angola by the Imperial German Army in the First World War. Former deputy head of the South African Army, Major General Roland de Vries, played a seminal role. It was he, dubbed South Africa's Rommel by his fellow commanders, who successfully nurtured the concept of mobile warfare, where, in a succession of armored onslaughts, thin-skinned Ratel Infantry Fighting Vehicles tackled Soviet main battle tanks and thrashed them. There is a major section on South African Airborne, the Parabats, by Brigadier General McGill Alexander, one of the architects of that kind of warfare under Third World conditions. Finally, the role of the Cuban Revolutionary Army receives the attention it deserves; officially, there were almost 50,000 Cuban troops deployed in the Angolan war, though subsequent disclosures in Havana suggest that the final total was much higher.

War of Intervention in Angola Adrien Fontanellaz, Tom Cooper, José Augusto Matos, 2021-06-23. War of Intervention in Angola Volume 4 continues the coverage of the operational history of the Angolan Air Force and Air Defense Force (FAPA DAA) as told by Angolan and Cuban sources in the period 1985-1988. Many accounts of this conflict, better known in the West as the Border War or the Bush War, as named by its South African participants, consider the operations of the FAPA DAA barely worth commentary. At most, they mention a few air combats involving Mirage F1 interceptors of the South African Air Force (SAAF) in 1987 and 1988 and perhaps a little about the activity of the FAPA DAA's MiG-23s. However, a closer study of Angolan and Cuban sources reveals an entirely different image of the air war over Angola in the 1980s; indeed, it reveals the extent to which the flow of the entire war was dictated by the availability or the lack of air power. These issues strongly influenced the planning and conduct of operations by the commanders of the Angolan and Cuban forces. Based on extensive research with the help of Angolan and Cuban sources, War of Intervention in Angola Volume 4 traces the Angolan and Cuban application of air power between 1985-1988, during which it came of age, and the capabilities, intentions, and the combat operations of the air forces.

The volume is illustrated with 100 rarely seen photographs half a dozen maps and 15 color profiles and provides a unique source of reference on this subject Historical Dictionary of Angola W.
