Thanatourism and Cinematic Representations of Risk Rodanthi Tzanelli, 2016-04-14 In today s world the need to eliminate natural and human made disasters has been at the forefront of national and international socio political agendas The management of risks such as terrorism labour strikes protests and environmental degradation has become pivotal for countries that depend on their economy s tourist sector Indeed there is fear that that the end of tourism might be nigh due to inadequate institutional foresight Yet in designing relevant policies to tackle this arts such as that of filmmaking have yet to receive due consideration This book adopts an unorthodox approach to debates about the end of tourism Through twenty first century cinematic narratives of symbolically interconnected risks it considers how art envisages the future of humanity s well being These risks include migration as an infectious disease alien incursions as racialized labour mobilities cyborg rebellion as the fear of post colonial otherness and zombie anthropophagy as the replacement of rooted identities by nomadic lifestyles Such filmic scenarios articulate the futuristic survival of community as the triumph of the technological human over otherness and provide a means to debate societal risks that weave identity politics into unequal mobilities This book will appeal to researchers and students interested in mobilities theory tourism and travel theory film studies and aesthetics globalisation studies race labour and migration

The Report: Thailand 2012, 2011 Paradoxes of Neoliberalism Elizabeth Bernstein, Janet R Jakobsen, 2021-12-24 From the rise of far right regimes to the tumult of the COVID 19 pandemic recent years have brought global upheaval as well as the sedimentation of longstanding social inequalities Analyzing the complexities of the current political moment in different geographic regions this book addresses the paradoxical persistence of neoliberal policies and practices in order to ground the pursuit of a more just world Engaging theories of decoloniality racial capitalism queer materialism and social reproduction this book demonstrates the centrality of sexual politics to neoliberalism including both social relations and statecraft Drawing on ethnographic case studies the authors show that gender and sexuality may be the site for policies like those pertaining to sex trafficking which bundle together economics and changes to the structure of the state In other instances sexual politics are crucial components of policies on issues ranging from the growth of financial services to migration Tracing the role of sexual politics across different localities and through different political domains this book delineates the paradoxical assemblage that makes up contemporary neoliberal hegemony In addition to exploring contemporary social relations of neoliberal governance exploitation domination and exclusion the authors also consider gender and sexuality as forces that have shaped myriad forms of community based activism and resistance including local efforts to pursue new forms of social change By tracing neoliberal paradoxes across global sites the book delineates the multiple dimensions of economic and cultural restructuring that have characterized neoliberal regimes and emergent activist responses to them This innovative analysis of the relationship between gender justice and political economy will appeal to interdisciplinary scholars in social and cultural studies legal and political theorists and the wide range of readers who are concerned with contemporary questions of social justice
