National Forest Inventories Erkki Tomppo, Thomas Gschwantner, Mark Lawrence, Ronald E. McRoberts, 2009-12-02 Forest inventories throughout the world have evolved gradually over time The content as well as the concepts and definitions employed are constantly adapted to the users needs Advanced inventory systems have been established in many countries within Europe as well as outside Europe as a result of development work spanning several decades in some cases more than 100 years With continuously increasing international agreements and commitments the need for information has also grown drastically and reporting requests have become more frequent and the content of the reports wider Some of the agreements made at the international level have direct impacts on national economies and international decisions e g the Kyoto Protocol

Thus it is of utmost importance that the forest information supplied is collected and analysed using sound scientific principles and that the information from different countries is comparable European National Forest Inventory NFI teams gathered in Vienna in 2003 to discuss the new challenges and the measures needed to get data users to take full advantage of existing NFIs As a result the European National Forest Inventory Network ENFIN a network of NFIs was established The ENFIN members decided to apply for funding for meetings and collaborative activities COST European Cooperation in Science and Technology provided the necessary financial means for the realization of the program
