
Mastering Biology Chapter 1 & 2 Quizzes

A substance that cannot be broken down into other substances by ordinary chemical procedures is a(n) _____. - answer element

This is the definition of an element.

What is the correct order for the hierarchy of biological organization from the least to the most complex? See Concept 1.1 (Page) - answer molecule, organelle, cell, tissue, organ, organ system, organism, population, community, ecosystem

Each level of biological structure builds on the level before it.

No amino acid molecule by itself can speed up or catalyze reactions between other molecules; however, when amino acids are joined together to make a protein with catalytic properties, the new structure (enzymatic protein) can speed up the rate of a specific chemical reaction. What does this illustrate? See Concept 1.1 (Page) - answer emergent properties

A molecule such as a protein has attributes not exhibited by any of its component parts (e.g., amino acids). Therefore, novel properties are emerging that were not present at a simpler level of organization.

Which of the following statements is true about chemical nutrients in an ecosystem? See Concept 1.1 (Page) - answer They recycle within the ecosystem, being constantly reused.

Nutrients cycle through the ecosystem by processes such as the decomposition of organic debris.

Which of the following statements is not true of scientific experiments? - answer They must occur under carefully controlled conditions found in a laboratory.

Not all experiments are performed under laboratory conditions; many occur outdoors in uncontrolled conditions. Scientists must account for these variations when designing experiments.

In an experiment, investigators try to control all of the variables except one—the one that tests the hypothesis. Which of the following reasons is the primary rationale for controlling variables in an experiment? - answer To eliminate alternative explanations for the results of an experiment
