Wadham,Jon W. Ostenson,2013-01-07 This book advocates for a stronger role for young adult literature in ELA classrooms compellingly documenting how this body of work meets both the needs of adolescent students and the demands of the common core for complex texts and tasks Integrating Young Adult Literature through the Common Core Standards provides a compelling template for teachers that uses young adult literature and inquiry learning to meet students needs and the demands of the common core standards The first part of the book addresses the widely adopted common core state standards by examining closely the standards model of text complexity and demonstrating how young adult literature can fill the requirements of this model The second part provides theoretical discussions and analysis of the standards as well as concrete applications of young adult literature within the classroom in order to give school professionals a comprehensive understanding of how young adult literature and the standards can work together The book empowers schools and teachers to make intelligent informed decisions about texts and instructional practices that benefit their students Finally the authors explore a powerful teaching approach that integrates current understandings about learning young adult literature and the common core standards in a way that will facilitate greater learning and understanding in English classrooms The Post-Apocalyptic Novel in the Twenty-First Century H. Hicks,2016-04-08 Since the beginning of the twenty first century major Anglophone authors have flocked to a literary form once considered lowbrow genre fiction the post apocalyptic novel Calling on her broad knowledge of the history of apocalyptic literature Hicks examines the most influential post apocalyptic novels written since the beginning of the new millennium including works by Margaret Atwood David Mitchell Cormac McCarthy Jeanette Winterson Colson Whitehead and Paolo Bacigalupi Situating her careful readings in relationship to the scholarship of a wide range of historians theorists and literary critics she argues that these texts use the post apocalyptic form to reevaluate modernity in the context of the new century's political, economic and ecological challenges. In the immediate wake of disaster, the characters in these novels desperately scavenge the scraps of the modern world. But what happens to modernity beyond these first moments of salvage? In a period when postmodernism no longer defines cultural production, Hicks convincingly demonstrates that these writers employ conventions of post-apocalyptic genre fiction to reengage with key features of modernity from historical thinking and the institution of nationhood to rationality and the practices of literacy itself.

Gray Matters Ellyn Lem, 2020-08-28. Gray Matters: Finding Meaning in the Stories of Later Life examines films, literature, and art that focus on aging, often made by people who are over sixty-five. These texts are analyzed alongside recent gerontology research and extensive commentary from interviews and surveys of seniors to show how stories illuminate the dynamics of growing old by blending fact with imagination, giving a fuller picture of the aging process.

Representing Poverty in the Anglophone Postcolonial World Verena Jain-Warden, Barbara

Schmidt-Haberkamp, 2021-06-07. Originally a concern primarily of social studies and economics, poverty has emerged as a significant thematic focus and analytical tool in literary and cultural studies in the last two decades. The new poverty studies are dedicated to analyzing representations of poverty and the poor in literature and the visual arts in the news media and in social practices. They aim at exploring the frameworks of representation that impact the affective and ethical responses of audiences to disenfranchised groups such as the poor. The contributions to this volume focus on representations of poverty in the Anglophone postcolonial world, exploring for example contemporary discourses on poverty in the UK, filmic representations of Nairobi slums, or the agency of the poor in literature from India.
