Isizulu 2014 Papers Kzn:

Language and Institutional Identity in the Post-Apartheid South African Higher Education Leketi Makalela, 2022-03-21 This book examines the intersections between education identity formation and language in post apartheid South Africa with specific attention to higher education It does so against the backdrop of the core argument that the sector plays a critical role in shaping re producing and perpetuating sectoral class sub national and national identities which in turn in the peculiar South African setting are almost invariably analogous with the historical fault lines determined and dictated by language as a marker of ethnic and racial identity The chapters in the book grapple with the nuances related to these intersections in the understanding that higher education language policies overt and or covert largely structure institutional cultures or what has been described as curriculum in higher education institutions Together the chapters examine the roles played by higher education by language policies and by the intersections of these policies and ethnolinguistic identities in either constructing and perpetuating or deconstructing ethnolinguistic identities upon which the sector was founded The introductory chapter lays out the background to the entire book with an emphasis on the policy and practice perspectives on the intersections The middle chapters describe the so called White Universities Black Universities and Middle Man Minorities Universities The final chapter maps out future directions of the discourses on language and identity formation in South Africa s higher education

English in Business and Commerce Tamah Sherman, Jiri Nekvapil, 2018-05-07 This volume fills an important gap in exploring English in the domains of business and commerce through the prism of sociolinguistics and the sociology of language as opposed to analyzing business genres or taking a linguodidactic approach It expands the regional coverage of English in Europe with several studies based in Central Europe and also considers contexts which interact with Europe even though they are physically outside of it Asia Africa It addresses English as just one of several languages at play in the ecology of the countries It focuses not only on the position of languages as declared in documents of various organizations that is language policy but also everyday linguistic practices as observed in business contexts that is interactions The studies are divided into three thematic areas ideologies and discourses on English in the business sphere the management of English in business and organizational contexts and English and other languages on local and international labor markets It will be of interest to readers concerned with multilingualism in the economic sphere and the workplace and the interplay between macro and micro levels during the management of communication in organizations

Extended Curriculum Programmes Tennyson Mgutshini, 2022-04-30 The introduction of ECPs in South African Universities is seen by many as South Africa's key strategy for addressing the problem of poor patterns of student success and has its basis on the uncontested acceptance that an extended study duration may be necessary to bring some categories of learners to a level of parity with the readiness expectations of their course of study Even so this transformative strategic imperative has been plagued by a range of challenges that include poor systems readiness poor selection mechanisms in the identification of ECP students poor numeracy and literacy amongst students and indifferent teacher involvement in ECPs This volume offers a rare insight into many of the above recognised challenges and in so doing provides critical matter for thought for educators within the higher education sector

Media Diversity in South Africa Julie Reid, 2021-12-30 This timely book argues that the Global North's research methods and traditional assumptions are not valid to the media landscapes and audiences of the Global South With South Africa as the focus the authors offer a new understanding of media diversity along an audience centred approach Disappointingly research shows that most South African citizens most of whom are economically marginalised are found to experience extremely low levels of media content diversity in their personal media diets The contributing factors are inter related and complex but include the inequitable distribution of media content a lack of African language media and most especially the cost of media access which is unaffordable to many In this book the authors examine what went wrong with post apartheid attempts to democratise the media landscape and why the experienced levels of media diversity by the majority South African audience remain so woefully low While media diversity is usually measured by policymakers sector stakeholders or by market related imperatives this book foregrounds the perspective of the media consumer In doing so traditional media measuring is inverted leading to a more in depth understanding of how ordinary people in the Global South receive media content how much and why The authors offer a holistic analysis of the ineffectuality of key media policymaking processes projects and institutions while also suggesting how these could be transformed to create a more diverse and broadly accessible media landscape      Changing Theory Dilip M Menon, 2022-05-02 This book is an original systematic and radical attempt at decolonizing critical theory Drawing on linguistic concepts from 16 languages from Asia Africa the Arab world and South America the essays in the volume explore the entailments of words while discussing their conceptual implications for the humanities and the social sciences everywhere The essays engage in the work of thinking through words to generate a conceptual vocabulary that will allow for a global conversation on social theory which will be necessarily multilingual With essays by scholars across generations and from a variety of disciplines history anthropology and philosophy to literature and political theory this book will be essential reading for scholars researchers and students of critical theory and the social sciences      IsiZulu South Africa.
