Artificial Generation Christina Parker-Flynn, 2021-11-19 Artificial Generation Photogenic French Literature and the Prehistory of Cinematic Modernity investigates the intersection of film theory and nineteenth century literature arguing that the depth of amalgamation that occurred within literary representation during this era aims to replicate an illusion of life and its sensations in ways directly related to broader transitions into our modern cinematic age A key part of this evolution in representation relies on the continual re emergence of the artificial woman as longstanding expression of masculine artistic subjectivity which by the later nineteenth century becomes a photographic and filmic drive Moving through the beginning of film history from Georges Méliès and other silent filmmakers in the 1890s into more contemporary movies including Alfred Hitchcock's Vertigo 1958 and Blade Runner 2049 2017 the book analyzes how films are often structured around the prior century's mythic and literary principles which now serve as foundation for film as medium a phantom form for life's representation Artificial Generation provides a crucial reassessment of the longstanding mutual exchange between cinematic and literary reproduction offering an innovative perspective on the proto-cinematic imperative of simulation within nineteenth-century literary symbolism
