of these five components is explained thoroughly describing how school librarians can encourage students to read as individuals in groups and as school communities support classroom teachers instruction and connect students to today's constantly evolving technologies. Used in combination with an inquiry information skills model the READS curriculum enables school librarians to deliver a dynamic balanced library program that addresses AASL's Standards for the 21st Century Learner.

Reading Khaled Hosseini Rebecca Stuhr, 2009-09-03 One of the most important emerging novelists today Khaled Hosseini has enjoyed critical success and popular accolades. His first book The Kite Runner was voted Reading Group Book of the Year in 2006 and 2007 and was made into a major motion picture. His second book A Thousand Splendid Suns seems destined to follow the same path. Written for book club members and students this guide overviews Hosseini's works, themes, characters, and contexts and relates his fiction to current events and popular culture. Sidebars present interesting information and chapters contain questions to stimulate book club discussions and student research. The volume closes with a selected general bibliography of print and electronic resources. The book begins with a glance at Hosseini's life and his use of the novel form. It then looks at his novels summarizing their plots and discussing his characters, themes, and contexts. The book gives close attention to his handling of current events in his works and to the presence of his fiction in popular culture. Chapters include sidebars of interesting information along with discussion questions designed to promote book club discussion and student research.

Inquiry Units for English Language Arts Dawn Forde, Andrew Bouque, Elizabeth A. Kahn, Thomas M. McCann, Carolyn C. Walter, 2020-02-11 Inquiry Units for English Language Arts is an engaging and relevant collection of instructional units that delve into contemporary problems related to equity, justice, identity, freedom, and social reform. Designed by practicing classroom teachers, these units integrate reading, writing, speaking, and listening as modes of investigation in the Language Arts classroom. Each chapter provides specific guidance in planning, initiating, managing, and assessing a unit's line of inquiry to ensure that students' academic, social, and emotional growth are central to the classroom experience. The units in this book illustrate how guided inquiry prioritizes inductive learning by framing problems that require students to work collaboratively as they develop the critical thinking skills necessary to be active participants in a democracy.

Television and Reading Susan B. Neuman, 1986 Drawing on communications, psychological, and educational studies, this paper examines television's influence on reading performance and school achievement. The first section of the paper reviews and synthesizes major studies dealing with the introduction of television in a community and with correlations between television use and school achievement, pointing out that many of the studies have flawed methodologies and weak links between theory and methodology. The second section of the paper synthesizes the results of eight statewide reading assessments and a secondary analysis of the 1984 National Assessment of Educational Progress using hypotheses based on four theories of displacement: the idea that watching television replaces other activities in children's lives. It concludes that television viewing is associated with a different set of needs and gratifications than reading. The report includes extensive
