Michael Rocereta

Isizulu Paper 2 Memo Grade 2014:

Letters from the Globemaster Families Michael Rocereta, 2015-07-28 Letters from the Globemaster Families The Lost C 124 of Mount Gannett Alaska gathers evidence and presents the most likely description of the final flight of a United States Air Force troop transport plane carrying fifty two servicemen The Globemaster C 124 crashed into the side of Mount Gannett Alaska Sixty years later a glacier yielded up both the wreckage and remains of some of the crashs victims Michael Rocereta uses his two decades worth of experience as an instrument rated private pilot his education as a geologist and his experience investigating accidents to guide his research presentation and conclusions regarding the accident Letters from the Globemaster Families uses as introductions to its chapters the correspondence of relatives as they write about their desires to know the details of the airplanes crash and their loved ones deaths This approach provides a personal counterbalance to the technical details covered in the chapters themselves The book concludes with a collection of short biographies of the servicemen a glossary of terms and acronyms a selected bibliography and an index No matter whether you appreciate the work of a solid investigation regional history of Alaska military history or the resolution that individuals can feel when they come to closure then Letters from the Globemaster Families The Lost C 124 of Mount Gannett Alaska will deliver a focused narrative of a tragic event that spans the decades

Local Officials and the Struggle to Transform Cities Claire Bénit-Gbaffou ,2024-02-27 Why are even progressive local authorities with the will to improve seldom able to change cities Why does it seem almost impossible to redress spatial inequalities deliver and maintain basic services elevate impoverished areas and protect the marginalised communities Why do municipalities in the Global South refuse to work with prevailing social informalities and resort instead to interventions that are known to displace and aggravate the very issues they aim to address Local Officials and the Struggle to Transform Cities analyses these challenges in South African cities where the brief post apartheid moment opened a window for progressive city government and made research into state practices both possible and necessary In debate with other progressive moments in large cities in Brazil the USA and India the book interrogates City officials practices It considers the instruments they invent and negotiate to implement urban policies the agency they develop and the constraints they navigate in governing unequal cities This focus on actual officials practices is captured through first hand experience state ethnographies and engaged research These reveal day to day practice that question generalised explanations of state failure in complex urban societies as essential malevolence contextual weakness corruption and inefficiency It is hoped that opening the black box of the workings of state opens paths for the construction of progressive policies in contemporary cities
