Islam, Christianity, and the West Rollin Stely Armour,2002 One of a number of 9 11 volumes that appeared last year

Rollin Armour's book has been nearly a decade in the making. He takes the World Trade Center bombing in 1993 and its final destruction in 2001 as historical bookends for the material covered. His stated goal is to contribute to better mutual understanding between the West and the Islamic world.

The House of Islam Ed Husain, 2018-06-19 Ed Husain has become one of the most vital Muslim voices in the world. The House of Islam could very well be his magnum opus. Reza Aslan, 1 New York Times bestselling author of Zealot. This should be compulsory reading. Peter Frankopan, author of the international bestseller The Silk Roads. Today Islam is to many in the West an alien force with Muslims held in suspicion. Failure to grasp the inner workings of religion and geopolitics has haunted American foreign policy for decades and has been decisive in the new administration's controversial orders. The intricacies and shadings must be understood by the West not only to build a stronger, more harmonious relationship between the two cultures but also for greater accuracy in predictions as to how current crises such as the growth of ISIS will develop and from where the next might emerge. The House of Islam addresses key questions and points of disconnection. What are the roots of the conflict between Sunni and Shi'a Muslims that is engulfing Pakistan and the Middle East? Does the Koran encourage the killing of infidels? The book thoughtfully explores the events and issues that have come from and contributed to the broadening gulf between Islam and the West: from the United States overthrow of Iran's first democratically elected leader to the emergence of ISIS; from the declaration of a fatwa on Salman Rushdie to the attack on the offices of Charlie Hebdo. Authoritative and engaging, Ed Husain leads us clearly and carefully through the nuances of Islam and its people, taking us back to basics to contend that the Muslim world need not be a stranger to the West nor our enemy but our peaceable allies.

Islam in Modern History Wilfred Cantwell Smith, 1957 This is a study of a people in the turmoil of the modern world. The Muslim community in our day like the rest of mankind is in serious transition. What distinguishes it is that its members face the perplexities and opportunities of modernity as heirs of a unique tradition. Their society is characterized by a faith, Islam, and a great past. What is happening to the community and to the faith is the attempted subject of this book.

Preface Kingdoms of Faith Brian A. Catlos, 2018-05-01 A magisterial myth dispelling history of Islamic Spain spanning the millennium between the founding of Islam in the seventh century and the final expulsion of Spain's Muslims in the seventeenth. In Kingdoms of Faith, award-winning historian Brian A. Catlos rewrites the history of Islamic Spain from the ground up, evoking the cultural splendor of al-Andalus while offering an authoritative new interpretation of the forces that shaped it. Prior accounts have portrayed Islamic Spain as a paradise of enlightened tolerance or the site where civilizations clashed. Catlos taps a wide array of primary sources to paint a more complex portrait showing how Muslims, Christians, and Jews together built a sophisticated civilization that transformed the Western world even as they waged relentless war against each other and their coreligionists. Religion was often the language of conflict but seldom its cause, a lesson we would do well to learn in our own time.
