Islamic Art and Visual Culture D. Fairchild Ruggles, 2011-04-25 Islamic Art and Visual Culture is a collection of primary sources in translation accompanied by clear and concise introductory essays that provide unique insights into the aesthetic and cultural history of one of the world's major religions. Collects essential translations from sources as diverse as the Qur'an, court chronicles, technical treatises on calligraphy and painting, imperial memoirs and foreign travel accounts. Includes clear and concise introductory essays. Situates each text and explains the circumstances in which it was written, the date, place, author and political conditions. Provides a vivid window into Islamic visual culture and society. An indispensable tool for teachers and students of art and visual culture. Islamic Visual Culture, 1100-1800 Oleg Grabar, 2006 Islamic Visual Culture 1100-1800 is the second in a set of four selections of studies by Oleg Grabar. Its focus is on the key centuries, the eleventh through fourteenth, during which the main directions of traditional Islamic art were created and developed and for which classical approaches of the History of Art were adopted. Manuscript illustrations and the arts of objects dominate the selection of articles, but there are also forays into later times like Mughal India and into definitions of area and period styles as with the Mamluks in Egypt and the Ottomans or into parallels between Islamic and Christian medieval arts. Islamic Visual Culture, 1100-1800 Oleg Grabar, 2024-08-01 Islamic Visual Culture 1100-1800 is the second in a set of four volumes of studies on Islamic art by Oleg Grabar. Between them they bring together more than eighty articles, studies and essays, work spanning half a century by a master of the field. Each volume takes a particular section of the topic, the three other volumes being entitled Early Islamic Art 650-1100, Islamic Art and Beyond and Jerusalem. Reflecting the many incidents of a long academic life, they illustrate one scholar's attempt at making order and sense of 1400 years of artistic growth. They deal with architecture, painting, objects, iconography, theories of art, aesthetics and ornament, and they seek to integrate our knowledge of Islamic art with Islamic culture and history as well as with the global concerns of the History of Art. In addition to the articles selected, each volume contains an introduction which describes, often in highly personal ways, the context in which Grabar's scholarship developed and the people who directed and mentored his efforts. The focus of the present volume is on the key centuries, the eleventh through fourteenth, during which the main directions of traditional Islamic art were created and developed and for which classical approaches of the History of Art were adopted. Manuscript illustrations and the arts of objects dominate the selection of articles, but there are also forays into later times like Mughal India and into definitions of area and period styles as with the Mamluks in Egypt and the Ottomans or into parallels between Islamic and Christian medieval arts. Islamic art & visual culture, 2011 The Routledge Handbook of Muslim-Jewish Relations Josef Meri, 2016-06-23 The Routledge Handbook of Muslim-Jewish Relations invites readers to deepen their understanding of the historical, social, cultural and political themes that impact modern-day perceptions of interfaith dialogue. The volume is designed to illuminate positive encounters between Muslims and Jews as well as points of conflict within a historical framework Among other goals the volume seeks to correct common misperceptions about the history of Muslim Jewish relations by complicating familiar political narratives to include dynamics such as the cross influence of literary and intellectual traditions Reflecting unique and original collaborations between internationally renowned contributors the book is intended to spark further collaborative and constructive conversation and scholarship in the academy and beyond

The Origins of Visual Culture in the Islamic World Mohammed Hamdouni Alami,2015-04-17 In tenth century Iraq a group of Arab intellectuals and scholars known as the Ikhwan al Safa began to make their intellectual mark on the society around them A mysterious organisation the identities of its members have never been clear But its contribution to the intellectual thought philosophy art and culture of the era and indeed subsequent ones is evident In the visual arts for example Hamdouni Alami argues that the theory of human proportions which the Ikwan al Safa propounded something very similar to those of da Vinci helped shape the evolution of the philosophy of aesthetics art and architecture in the tenth and eleventh centuries CE in particular in Egypt under the Fatimid rulers With its roots in Pythagorean and Neoplatonic views on the role of art and architecture the impact of this theory of specific and precise proportion was widespread One of the results of this extensive influence is a historic shift in the appreciation of art and architecture and their perceived role in the cultural sphere The development of the understanding of the interplay between ethics and aesthetics resulted in a movement which emphasised more abstract and pious contemplation of art as opposed to previous views which concentrated on the enjoyment of artistic works such as music song and poetry And it is with this shift that we see the change in art forms from those devoted to supporting the Umayyad caliphs and the opulence of the Abbasids to an art which places more emphasis on the internal concepts of reason and spirituality Using the example of Fatimid art and views of architecture including the first Fatimid mosque in al Mahdiyya Tunisia Hamdouni Alami offers analysis of the debates surrounding the ethics and aesthetics of the appreciation of Islamic art and architecture from a vital time in medieval Middle Eastern history and shows their similarity with aesthetic debates of Italian Renaissance
