World Travel Guide Media House, 2004-05 The missing woodland resources Marian Berihuete-Azorín, María Martín Seijo, Oriol López-Bultó, Raquel Piqué, 2022-07-20 Woodlands are a key source of raw materials for many purposes since early Prehistory Wood bark resin leaves fibres fungi moss or tubers have been gathered to fulfill almost every human need That led societies to develop specific technologies to acquire manage transform elaborate use and consume these resources The materials provided by woodlands covered a wide range of necessities such as food shelter clothing or tool production but they also provided resources employed for waterproofing dyeing medicine and adhesives among many others All these technological processes and uses are commonly difficult to identify through the archaeological record Some materials are exclusively preserved by charring or in anaerobic conditions at very exceptional sites or leave only a very slight trace behind them e.g. containers Consequently they have received far less attention in archaeobotanical studies compared to other kind of plant materials consumed as food or firewood This book provides an overview of technological uses of plants from the Palaeolithic to the Post Medieval period This collection of papers presents different archaeobotanical and archaeological studies dealing with the use of a wide range of woodland resources most of them among the less visible for archaeology such as bast fibres and fungi These papers present different approaches for their study combining archaeology archaeobotany and ethnoarchaeology

Strange Harvests Edward Posnett, 2019-08-06 Strange Harvests is an impressive addition to the modern travelogue painting some of the world's most remote terrain in visceral and sometimes breathtaking prose an engrossing read NPR An original and magical map of our world and its riches formed of the stories of the small scale harvests of seven natural objects In this beguiling book Edward Posnett journeys to some of the most far flung locales on the planet to bring us seven wonders of the natural world eiderdown vicuña fiber sea silk vegetable ivory civet coffee guano and edible birds nests that promise ways of using nature without damaging it To the rest of the world these materials are mere commodities but to their harvesters they are imbued with myth tradition folklore and ritual and form part of a shared identity and history Strange Harvests follows the journeys of these uncommon products from some of the most remote areas of the world to its most populated urban centers drawing on the voices of the people and little known communities who harvest process and trade them Blending history travel writing and interviews Posnett sets these human stories against our changing economic and ecological landscape What do they tell us about capitalism global market forces and overharvesting How do local microeconomies survive in a hyperconnected world Is it possible for us to live together with different species Strange Harvests makes us see the world with wonder curiosity and new concern
