He wasn't the best father; the job always came first, but now his daughter needs him more than ever. But is he going as a father or a detective? As he leaves at dawn to drive to the windswept coast and a small town with big secrets, he wonders whether this might be the first time in his life where the truth is the one thing he doesn't want to find. And when Rebus rescues a young Bosnian girl forced into prostitution, he breaks a policeman's golden rule: to never get personally involved in a case. Add to that the hunt for an elderly Nazi accused of slaughtering an entire French village, and Rebus wonders just how evil humans can be. Until his own daughter is mortally injured as a gangland warning for him to back off. Then even a dedicated cop like Rebus might make a deal with the devil to find the culprit. Not for justice.
