Language and Institutional Identity in the Post-Apartheid South African Higher Education Leketi

Makalela,2022-03-21 This book examines the intersections between education identity formation and language in post apartheid South Africa with specific attention to higher education It does so against the backdrop of the core argument that the sector plays a critical role in shaping re producing and perpetuating sectoral class sub national and national identities which in turn in the peculiar South African setting are almost invariably analogous with the historical fault lines determined and dictated by language as a marker of ethnic and racial identity The chapters in the book grapple with the nuances related to these intersections in the understanding that higher education language policies overt and or covert largely structure institutional cultures or what has been described as curriculum in higher education institutions Together the chapters examine the roles played by higher education by language policies and by the intersections of these policies and ethnolinguistic identities in either constructing and perpetuating or deconstructing ethnolinguistic identities upon which the sector was founded The introductory chapter lays out the background to the entire book with an emphasis on the policy and practice perspectives on the intersections The middle chapters describe the so called White Universities Black Universities and Middle Man Minorities Universities The final chapter maps out future directions of the discourses on language and identity formation in South Africa s higher education      The Linguistic Landscape of Post-Apartheid South Africa Liesel

Hibbert,2016-06-24 The appointment of Nelson Mandela as President of South Africa in 1994 signalled the end of apartheid and transition to a new democratic constitution This book studies discursive trends during the first twenty years of the new democracy outlining the highlights and challenges of transforming policy practice and discursive formations The book analyses a range of discourses which signal how and by what processes the linguistic landscape and identities of South Africa s inhabitants have changed in this time finding that struggles in South African politics go hand in hand with shifts in the linguistic landscape In a country now characterised by multilingualism heteroglossia polyphony and translanguaging the author debates where the discourse practices of those born post 1994 may lead      KwaZulu-Natal Heritage Sites Sue

Derwent,2006 KwaZulu Natal has numerous sites of great historic value many of which are protected by law Sue Derwent has assembled in the pages of this book over a hundred historic important beautiful and interesting sites e and some that are simply fun visits      The Changing Face of Land and Conservation in Post-colonial Africa George Barrett,Shirley

Brooks,Jenny Josefsson,Nqobile Zulu,2016-03-22 The year 2013 marked the 100th anniversary of the 1913 Land Act in South Africa which legalised the violent dispossession and alienation of the African majority from the land It is common cause that the alienation of land for conservation purposes introduced to Africa under colonial rule has continued more or less uninterrupted until today However while nature conservation practices inevitably raise challenging questions relating to land and land use there has thus far been little concentrated effort to bring together scholars working on the land question particularly around issues of land tenure with those whose work focuses on questions of nature construction and the social impacts of conservation in an African context Compiled from research presented at a ground breaking interdisciplinary conference held at Rhodes University in Grahamstown South Africa in 2012 the chapters in this book made their first appearance in a special issue of the Journal of Contemporary African Studies JCAS in July 2013 The book brings critical interdisciplinary analyses of the complex interrelations between contemporary neoliberal conservation practices in post colonial Africa into conversation with the well trodden territory of land use and contested land issues on the continent Anchored by an intellectual curiosity about the extent to which past practices continue into the present and with what consequences the book provides fresh insights into the complex relationship between land and conservation in contemporary Africa

The Relative Clause Formation in Zulu Alexandra Orth, 2011-05-09 Seminar paper from the year 2009 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Linguistics grade 2.0 University of Freiburg English Seminar course HS Grammaticalization language English abstract My term paper deals with one of the South African languages the Zulu language In my grammar report accompanying the seminar I already dealt with the Zulu language more precisely I tried to explain the phenomenon of the Zulu noun Besides our seminar the motivation and idea to deal with this topic has arisen from my personal experiences Since I lived and worked approximately five months in South Africa last year The Zulu language aroused my interest because it differs from all languages I know but nevertheless it includes English words or word parts This time in my term paper I will try to discuss the way of forming a relative clause in Zulu This formation usually involves a prefix also called relative concord which is attached to the predicate of a relative clause A relative clause is a subordinate clause that modifies a noun Generally in most European languages a relative clause is introduced by a relative pronoun which belongs to a special class of pronouns In other languages relative clauses may be marked in different ways they may be introduced by a special class of conjunctions called relativizers the main verb of the relative clause may appear in a special morphological variant or a relative clause may be indicated by word order alone In some languages more than one of these mechanisms may be possible Since relative clauses in Zulu were formed in a different way than in most European languages I would like to examine this problem in more detail

The Contested Idea of South Africa Sabelo J. Ndlovu-Gatsheni, Busani Ngcaweni, 2021-11-29 This book reflects on the complex and contested idea of South Africa drawing on a wide range of disciplinary perspectives Ever since the delineation of South Africa as a country the many diverse groups of people contained within its borders have struggled to translate a mere geographical description into the identity of a people Today the new struggles for South Africa and to become South African are inextricably intertwined with complex challenges of transformation xenophobia claims of reverse racism social justice economic justice service delivery and the resurgent decolonization struggles reverberating inside the universities This book covers the genealogy of the idea of South Africa exploring how the country has been conceived of by a broad group of actors including the British Afrikaners diverse

African nationalist traditions and new formations such as the Economic Freedom Fighters EFF Black First Land First BLF and student formations Rhodes Must Fall Fees Must Fall Over the course of the book a broad range of themes are covered including identity formation modernity race ethnicity indigeneity autochthony land gender intellectual traditions poetics of South Africanness language popular culture truth and reconciliation and national development planning Concluding with important reflections on how a colonial imaginary can be changed into a free and inclusive postcolonial nation state this book will be an important read for Africanist researchers from across the humanities and social sciences

Post-Development from the Global South Sally Matthews, Alba Castellsagué, 2025-04-22 Post development advocates and decolonial thinkers are calling for radical alternatives to development but how do these ideals sit with the day to day reality of marginalised communities struggling with poverty precarity and the deprivation of human rights This book investigates how post development alternatives are being understood and negotiated on the ground in the Global South Indigenous concepts and practices attributed to people in the Global South are seen by post development thinkers as offering transformative alternatives to dominant development models of progress and economic growth For example buen vivir from particular regions of South America points to a culture of life and ubuntu in Southern Africa emphasises human connectedness and mutuality Such terms are associated with social and environmental sustainability and a greater connection to Southern epistemologies Drawing on extensive fieldwork this book takes us directly to Global South communities from around the world to consider the complex ways in which they negotiate the ideas and practices associated with post development and their views on the supposed indigenous alternatives The book encourages a contextual approach that embraces the tensions and contradictions that exist within different communities Taking the reader from abstract post development theory right into the heart of communities directly impacted by development this book will be an important guide for students researchers and practitioners looking for better ways to address the desires and aspirations of marginalised communities in the Global South

The Natal Civil Service List ... KwaZulu-Natal (South Africa). Colonial Secretary's Office, 1908

Scenic KwaZulu-Natal Roger De la Harpe, Pat De la Harpe, 2006 Washed by the warm Indian Ocean on the eastern side of South Africa KwaZulu Natal sweeps through tropical beaches rolling green hills the lofty crags of the mighty Drakensberg Mountains and the biodiversity of some of Africa's oldest game reserves This work serves as a guide to this place

Zulu Sue Derwent, Roger De la Harpe, 1998 A discussion of the lifestyle of the Zulu people It contains a historic overview covering the British influence on the Zulu and goes on to explore the Zulu rites of passage from childhood to old age including bush lore stick fighting music and dance weddings and home life

Multilingualism in a Multicultural Context Guus Extra, 1998 From a historical and cultural point of view South Africa and Western Europe have much in common The sociolinguistic commonalities are clearly evident in the status and use of English and Afrikaans both of which have their roots in an intricate European migration history This volume aims at capturing new facts about multilingualism in these two multicultural contexts by means of case studies on dominant and dominated languages in two regions in particular i e KwaZulu Natal in South Africa and the Netherlands in Western Europe Through the exploration of local realities offered in this volume the similarities and differences between the two geopolitical contexts become abundantly clear This should lay the foundation for the comparative work that is eventually envisaged

Political Economy and Identities in KwaZulu-Natal Robert Morrell, Georgina Hamilton, 1996 In the recent past the region now known as KwaZulu Natal has developed a reputation for violent political contestation A century ago it was the Zulu who were considered to be the example of a martial race par excellence This book examines two hundred years of the region s history and develops an analysis of the region which goes beyond images of war and violence The people of the region are situated within its political economy The authors show how important social political and economic distinctions emerged and how these shaped the identities of the region s inhabitants

Gaffney's Local Government in South Africa ,2009      Commonwealth Universities Yearbook ,2006      The Law of South Africa ,1976      First Call Shirley Robinson, Linda Biersteker, 1997 The Children s Budget is not a separate budget for children Rather it is an attempt to examine what resources government is allocating to programmes that benefit children and whether these programmes adequately reflect the needs of children      The Directory of Independent Schools in South Africa ,1995      Drum ,2007      Democracy in Action ,1995      Government and Politics in the New South Africa Albert Venter, 1998 In this publication new light is shed on the Qumran community its organisational structure its ultra conservative way of life and how its leaders interpreted the books of the Old Testament by compiling their own commentaries
