Islam And Travel In The Middle Ages:

Islam and Travel in the Middle Ages Houari Touati, 2010-08 In the Middle Ages Muslim travelers embarked on a rihla or world tour as surveyors emissaries and educators On these journeys voyagers not only interacted with foreign cultures touring Greek civilization exploring the Middle East and North Africa and seeing parts of Europe they also established both philosophical and geographic boundaries between the faithful and the heathen These voyages thus gave the Islamic world which at the time extended from the Maghreb to the Indus Valley a coherent identity Islam and Travel in the Middle Ages assesses both the religious and philosophical aspects of travel as well as the economic and cultural conditions that made the rihla possible Houari Touati tracks the compilers of the hadith who culled oral traditions linked to the prophet the linguists and lexicologists who journeyed to the desert to learn Bedouin Arabic the geographers who mapped the Muslim world and the students who ventured to study with holy men and scholars Travel with its costs discomforts and dangers emerges in this study as both a means of spiritual growth and a metaphor for progress Touati's book will interest a broad range of scholars in history literature and anthropology Travel and Travellers of the Middle Ages Arthur Percival Newton, 1926 Islam as Education Aaron J. Ghiloni, 2019-08-01 Motivated by the intellectual historian Shahab Ahmed's observation that the history of Islamic paideia has yet to be written Islam as Education explores multiple forms that the search for knowledge and the transmission of wisdom have taken in Islam focusing on the classical period 800-1500 CE Ghiloni draws on a wide range of Islamic primary source material ranging from sacred texts and parables to neglected pedagogical literature and paintings He depicts three Islamic religious practices pilgrimage prophecy and jihad as modes of pedagogy embodied ways of defining defusing and defending sacred knowledge Islam as Education's educational heuristic not only aids in understanding Islam but also provides guidance for intercultural and interreligious relations Ghiloni argues that Islam's grand knowledge tradition serves as a bridge between Muslims and non-Muslims and compares it with the educational theory of John Dewey the celebrated American pragmatist Based on this discussion a final chapter develops practical tools for learning from cultural and religious difference Exploration in the World of the Middle Ages, 500-1500 Pamela White, John Stewart Bowman, Maurice Isserman, 2005 Interesting topics include Chaucer's The Canterbury Tales Chinese porcelain The crusades The hajj Medieval monsters The Norse sagas The search for spices Sir John Mandeville's Travels The Muslim World Book Review, 2010 Writing Journeys across Cultural Borders Elena V. Shabliy, Kimarie Engerman, 2021-10-13 Narratives of journeys voyages and pilgrimages often guide readers to questions about humanism and humanity from a holistic perspective The chapters in this volume explore narratives of both real and imagined journeys and examine their religious psychological psychoanalytical philosophical educational and historical implications What emerges is an understanding of narratives of journeys across cultural borders as powerful educational tools that can model and contribute to meaningful dialogue with other states cultures and civilizations Economic and Social History of the Middle Ages James Westfall

Thompson,1928 Reorienting the East Martin Jacobs,2014-08-14 The first comprehensive investigation of premodern Jewish travel writing about the Islamic world Reorienting the East explores the Islamic world as it was encountered envisioned and elaborated by Jewish travelers from the Middle Ages to the early modern period The first comprehensive investigation of Jewish travel writing from this era this study engages with questions raised by postcolonial studies and contributes to the debate over the nature and history of Orientalism as defined by Edward Said Examining two dozen Hebrew and Judeo Arabic travel accounts from the mid twelfth to the early sixteenth centuries Martin Jacobs asks whether Jewish travelers shared Western perceptions of the Islamic world with their Christian counterparts Most Jews who detailed their journeys during this period hailed from Christian lands and many sailed to the Eastern Mediterranean aboard Christian owned vessels Yet Jacobs finds that their descriptions of the Near East subvert or reorient a decidedly Christian vision of the region The accounts from the crusader era in particular are often critical of the Christian church and present glowing portraits of Muslim Jewish relations By contrast some of the later travelers discussed in the book express condescending attitudes toward Islam Muslims and Near Eastern Jews Placing shifting perspectives on the Muslim world in their historical social and literary contexts Jacobs interprets these texts as mirrors of changing Jewish self perceptions As he argues the travel accounts echo the various ways in which premodern Jews negotiated their mingled identities which were neither exclusively Western nor entirely Eastern The Influence of Islam on Medieval Europe William Montgomery Watt,1972 Traces Islamic influence on commerce science technology philosophy and European self awareness in the Middle Ages
