Paul B. Thompson

Monocultures Mind Perspectives Biodiversity Biotechnology:

Monocultures of the Mind Vandana Shiva, 1993-02 Vandana Shiva has established herself as a leading independent thinker and voice for the South in that critically important nexus where questions of development strategy the environment and the position of women in society coincide In this new volume she brings together her thinking on the protection of biodiversity the implications of biotechnology and the consequences for agriculture of the global pre eminence of Western style scientific knowledge In lucid and accessible fashion she examines the current threats to the planet s biodiversity and the environmental and human consequences of its erosion and replacement by monocultural production She shows how the new Biodiversity Convention has been gravely undermined by a mixture of diplomatic dilution during the process of negotiation and Northern hi tech interests making money out of the new biotechnologies She explains what these technologies involve and gives examples of their impact in practice She questions their claims to improving natural species for the good of all and highlights the ethical and environmental problems posed Underlying her arguments is the view that the North s particular approach to scientific understanding has led to a system of monoculture in agriculture a model that is not being foisted on the South displacing its societies ecologically sounder indigenous and age old experiences of truly sustainable food cultivation forest management and animal husbandry This rapidly accelerating process of technology and system transfer is impoverishing huge numbers of people disrupting the social systems that provide them with security and dignity and will ultimately result in a sterile planet in both North and South In a policy intervention of potentially great significance she calls instead for a halt at international as well as local level to the aid and market incentives to both large scale destruction of habitats where biodiversity thrives and the introduction of centralised homogenous systems of cultivation

Food Biotechnology in Ethical Perspective Paul B. Thompson, 2007-05-05 Agrifood biotechnology the genetic transformation of plants and animals through recombinant means has created controversy in the food system for more than twenty years This thoroughly revised and amended edition of Paul B Thompson s path breaking study of ethical and philosophical issues raised by this technology up to date The original 1997 edition was the first book length treatment by a philosopher to focus on food and agricultural biotechnology covering ethical issues associated with risk assessment labelling animal transformation patents and the impact of biotechnology on traditional farming communities in both the developed and developing world The new edition reflects lessons from the hotly contested debates over those issues in the intervening decade and includes wholly new discussions on ethical issues associated with livestock cloning the Precautionary Principle and the transatlantic debate between United States and European perspectives on biotechnology Thompson s unique and insightful approach to addressing the risks and questions of public acceptability associated with novel technology stands as a model for anyone interested in technological innovation and social change The book should be of interest to scholars and citizens interested in the Internet or nanotechnology while it remains an essential resource for understanding the twists and turns of debate over the role of molecular genetics in the transformation of the global food system Special Reference Briefs ,1983 Vegetables and Fruits: Annotated bibliography ,1998 Food and Agricultural Biotechnology in Ethical Perspective Paul B. Thompson,2020-11-09 This 3rd edition of Food and Agricultural Biotechnology in Ethical Perspective updates Thompson s analysis to reflect the next generation of biotechnology including synthetic biology gene editing and gene drives The first two editions of this book published as Food Biotechnology in Ethical Perspective in 1997 and 2007 were the first comprehensive philosophical studies of genetic engineering applied to food systems The book is structured with chapter length treatments of risk in four categories food safety to animals to the environment and socio economic risks These chapters are preceded by two chapters providing orientation to the uses of gene technology in food and agriculture and to the goals methods and background assumptions of technological ethics There is also a chapter covering all four types of risk as applied to the first US technology recombinant bovine somatotropin The last four chapters take up 1 intellectual property debates 2 religious metaphysical and intrinsic objections to biotechnology 3 issues in risk and trust and 4 a review of ethical issues in synthetic biology gene editing and gene drives the three key technologies that have emerged since the book was last revised Vegetables and Fruits: A Guide to Heirloom Varieties and Community-Based Stewardship. Volume 1, Annotated Bibliography, Special Reference Briefs Series No. SRB 98-05, September 1998 ,1998 Vegetables and Fruits ,1998 Biological Diversity L. N. Petrov,2003 One of the cornerstones of life s wonders is the vast array of species filling the planet From plants to animals to humans there is no shortage of beings to provide spice of life variety is said to be Periodically scientists announce the discovery of a new form of life so it seems as if Earth is capable of producing new species just to keep us on our toes At times the immense breadth of living things can even feel overwhelming as one pauses to ponder how numerically insignificant humans are when compared to the insect population Given the biological diversity of the planet it is incumbent upon humans to safeguard the natural beauty of the environment To that end conservation takes on special importance necessitating the balancing of industrial expansion with preserving the flora and fauna surrounding us This book is an important tool in understanding and researching the many different life forms spanning the globe Collected here is a substantial and carefully selected listing of relevant literature on biological diversity and its conservation Following this bibliography are author title and subject indexes to allow for further access to this information The sheer bulk of the works about biological diversity can be so intimidating that a book such as this one becomes useful in sorting through the resources about the importance of life s variety Encyclopedia of Women in Today's World Mary Zeiss Stange,Carol K. Oyster,Jane E. Sloan,2011-02-23 This work includes 1000 entries covering the spectrum of defining women in the contemporary world Divided Planet Tom Athanasiou,1998 Global warming Soil loss Freshwater scarcity Extinction Overconsumption Toxic waste production Habitat and biodiversity erosion These are only a few of our most urgent ecological crises There are others as well and despite the popularity of good news environmentalism few of them are going away In this wide ranging grimly entertaining commentary on the environmental debate Tom Athanasiou finds that these problems are exacerbated if not caused by the planet's division into warring camps of rich and poor Writing with passionate intelligence Athanasiou proposes a simple yet radical solution stop indulging easy calming fantasies in which everything seems to change but nothing important changes at all Instead do what needs to be done now while there is still time and goodwill The bottom line he concludes is that there will be no sustainability without a large measure of justice Without profound political and economic change he argues there can be no effective global environmental action no real effort to save the planet

Cultural and Spiritual Values of Biodiversity United Nations Environment Programme,1999 Weaving together philosophical historical legal scientific and personal viewpoints this book gives a rich sample of the vast web which makes up our cultural spiritual and social diversity The volume highlights the central importance of cultural and spiritual values in the appreciation and preservation of all life and argues that these values give us a true reflection of worth It demonstrates how many cultures see Nature as an extension of society and how sensitive stewardship is an integral part of existence The book covers language and how cognition and speech encode indigenous knowledge systems are critical for preservation of diversity the complex issue of indigenous people and the problems of preserving their relationships both with and within their societies voices of the world expressions of concern and disquiet over the declining world diversity holistic health practices where environment and diet are integrated into indigenous medical health systems the importance of developing effective intellectual property rights and territorial and land rights to enhance and maintain local control This book arose out of the Global Biodiversity Assessment GBA a massive review of current knowledge in the broad field of biological diversity commissioned by United Nations Environmental Programme UNEP
